"SMITHFIELD DAY"

Observed by Bradford County Historical Society

INTERESTING PAPERS READ.

Story Told of How Smithfield Was Made by the Sturdy Pioneers—Memories Freshened on Historical Facts—Early Settlers and Hardships.

Saturday was observed by the Bradford County Historical society as "Smithfield Day," and between 50 and 60 persons listened to three interesting papers by Mrs. N. L. Bird, J. S. Doty and G. W. Allen, dealing with the settlement and the pioneers of the township.

In these papers the indomitable courage of the sturdy founders of the settlement and the terrible hardships they endured while gaining a foothold among the giant pines and hemlocks of the hills, were vividly portrayed. Smithfield township was divided in 1814 into three parts, forming the present Smithfield, Springfield and Columbia townships. It had previously formed the townships of Smithfield, Murraysfield and Cabot, covering an immense stretch of territory.

The first white settler was Isiah Grover, who came into the region in 1792; the first permanent settler was Reuben Mitchell, who came in 1794, from Massachusetts. The first death in the township was a child of this family, in 1787. It is told of Mitchell and his sons that they trapped seven bears in seven consecutive nights, so numerous and troublesome were the wild beasts.

In 1799 came the Satterlees, Fosters, Baldwins, Oliver Hayes ,and others. Many of the first settlers came from Vermont, and among them in 1800, and the next few years were Solomon Morse, Samuel Kellogg, Michael Bird, Nehemiah Tracy, Noah Ford, Elihu Needham, Ala Stockings, Alpheus Holcomb, Samuel Wood, Ashael and John Scott, Darius Bullock, Major Jared Phelps, Austin and Chauncey Kellogg, David Forrest, Asa Hackett, Asa Farnsworth, William Farnsworth, Stephen Califf, Seth Gates, Phineas Pierce, David Durfey, Asa and Joel Allen, Cromwell and Edward Childs. Today, after the lapse of a century, the descendants of these pioneers make up the prosperous population of one of the best townships in old Bradford.

The first sawmill was erected by Phineas Pierce in 1806; the second by Nehemiah Tracy. The first log school house was built in 1807. Lyman Durfey opened the first store in 1833, and soon after Selden Tracy established the second store. The first church, a log building, was erected by the Congragationalists, in 1811. In 1816 a Baptist church was organized.

G. W. Allen of Coudersport, a native of Smithfield, gave brief sketches of noted Smithfield men among whom were Judge Darius Bullock, doctor, teacher, lawyer, and former merchant, and in 1830-31 was prothonotary. Rev. C. C. Tracy, many years a missionary at Marsovan, Turkey, and many others prominent in educational, political and religous work.

Drank Washing Fluid.

As a result of accidentally drinking a quantity of washing fluid Thursday evening, George Huff of Susquehanna, is in a critical condition. For several days he has not felt well and had been taking medicine. During the night he awoke and drank part of the contents of a bottle which he supposed contained medicine. In the darkness he had taken the wrong bottle. He soon began to suffer from the effects of the washing fluid and a physician was hastily summoned. He gave him emetics and relieved the pain. Although he is out of danger he is still in a precarious condition.

When Religion Changes.

Because of the remarkable change of the religious complexion of a community at Kiamesha Lake, Sullivan county, within the past year, an Episcopal church which was in course of construction will probably be sold to Hebrews to be used as a synagogue. Work has been abandoned on the church and the trustees will soon apply to the court for an order to sell the property and turn the funds over to the subscribers.

Murder at Corning.

Corning was the scene of a horrible murder on Saturday night. Two Italians were shot dead in their home by three men who demanded $50 a piece, and on being refused the amount opened fire upon the defenseless Italians. Black Handers are believed to be at the bottom of the terrible crime.

GRAND JURY FINISHES

Files Final Report On Friday Evening and Were Discharged

OTHER DOINGS IN COURT.

Surety of the Peace and Desertion Cases Heard—Divorce Decreed—Grand Jury Reports Favorably Upon County Buildings.

The grand jury which had been in session since Monday, completed its labors Friday night, filed a final report and the members were discharged and paid for their services. The jury visited the jail, county house and inspected the court house. A favorable report was returned on all the county buildings, and the jurors recommend that the county commissioners take up the matter of a better lighting system for the county house and also that the fire extinguishers in that building be refilled and put in good condition.

Following are thecriminal cases passed upon by the jurors during the session:

True Bills.

Surety of the Peace Cases.

The case of the commonwealth, vs. Fred Geiger, surety of the peace, the court directs defendant to pay all costs and give bail in the sum of $200 to keep the peace toward all citizens of this commonwealth, and especially toward his father, J. V. Geiger.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Harry L. Blackman, charged with desertion, continued until the first Monday in October. Case of Elmer Hess, desertion also continued until the first Monday in October.

The evidence in the Danton case was completed yesterday, the arguments will be made today and the case finished.

Divorce Decreed.

Malvina Carrier has been granted a divorce from Alfred E. Carrier on the grounds of desertion and cruelty.

A Justice Robbed.

Towanda is there with the calico when it comes to a genuine sensation, but Sayre has got the bulge on the county seat just at present. Saturday midnight, some bold bad burglar broke into the residence of William T. Carey, justice of the peace and acting cadi of Sayre borough. Evidently the burglars realized that they were tampering with justice, and it would not be wise to go too far, so after pocketing a gold bracelet belonging to Mrs. Carey decided to hike the hike. Nothing else in the home of the justice, who by the way is a terror to train riders, was molested.

Goes to Slatington.

Adin Lyon, an old resident of Spring Hill, has gone to Slatington to take the posfition of superintendent in a slate quarry. B. E. Wakeman, Laceyville's first station agent on the Lehigh Valley railroad, tells us that the first car of quarry stone shipped over the P., and N. Y. division of the Lehigh Valley railroad, was shipped by Mr. Lyon and the car was shipped from that station.—Laceyville Messenger.

THE COUNTY'S ARMY

Bradford County Has 7,951 Men Available for Military Service.

SAYRE ALONE HAS REGIMENT.

Only Two Towns in the County Have More Men Subject to Enrollment Than Towanda—Alba is at the Bottom of the List.

In Bradford county there are 7,951 men between the ages of 21 and 45, who are available for military service, according to the enrollment made by the assessors and forwarded to the state department by the county commissioners. Sayre alone can furnish more than a regiment of men, 1241 being the number enrolled in that borough. This large number of young men in Sayre is due to the railroad shops, the majority of employees being of military age. Athens is second, having 634 available men.

Towanda is third in the list with 497 able bodied men who could be enlisted into the military service, if it became necessary to do so, but they are not likely to be called upon. Alba has the smallest enrollment of any township in the county, only 19 men in that district being available. The number in each district is as follows:

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Susquehanna County Boy Dies From Gunshot Wound.

John Halbert, the 14 years old son of Ferdinand Halbert of Westcolony, Susquehanna county, was fatally shot Friday afternoon by the accidental discharging of a shot gun with which he was hunting in the woods near that place. The boy was after woodchucks in the woods a short distance from the Westcolony Hotel with several other boys. About 2 o'clock in the afternoon the boys sat down on a large rock and young Halbert had his 12-gauge shot gun lying behind him with the muzzle about a foot from his right thigh. He attempted to take his pocket knife from his hip pocket and his hand struck the gun and in some manner it was discharged.

The charge entered his right hip and made a terrible wound. Halbert was carried to the hotel at Westcolony where his injury was temporarily dressed and he was taken to Port Jervis hospital on Erie train No. 2, where he died at 8:15 o'clock Friday night. The little fellow showed great courage throughout his sufferings. Not once did he give way to tears.

Reform Wave Strikes Susquehanna.

Evidently the reform wave has struck Susquehanna. Thursday all the hotel and saloon keepers in that place were served with papers, charging them with violation of the liquor laws, by Rev. W. L. Riley, an agent of the Anti-Saloon League. It is charged that the men keep their places open on Sunday. They are to appear before Justice Williams in Great Bend next Tuesday.

VERDICT FOR WIFE.

Mrs. Mary R. Blackman Awarded $435 by Arbitrators.

HEARING OCCUPIED TWO DAYS

Stranger Than Fiction is the Tale Told by the Testimony Submitted In This Celebrated Case from Sheshequin Township.

William E. Foyle, burgess of Towanda, William Litle, Esq., and Capt. G. W. Kilmer, the arbitrators who heard the case of Mary R. Blackman, vs. W. DeWitt Fox and his wife, Carrie Fox, Wednesday afternoon returned a verdict of $435 in favor of plaintiff. The hearing before and finding of the arbitrators forms another chapter in the celebrated case from Sheshequin township.

Stranger Than Fiction.

Stranger than fiction is this affair, according to the evidence submitted during the hearing which occupied two full days. During that time about 40 witnesses were examined for the plaintiff and about ten for the defense. The court records of Bradford county chronicle no similar occurrence, tell not of a stranger state of affairs then, which judging from tetimony existed in the Blackman and Fox homes for over four years.

According to the evidence, Blackman left his home and family, and for over four years lived at the Fox home, being constantly in the company of Mrs. Fox, oft times, day and night driving past his own home with her and not even looking in the direction of the house which sheltered his family. In vain his wife pleaded with him to return to those whom he had forsaken, but he ignored her pleadings. Mrs. Blackman took her family to Waverly to make their living the best they could, and Blackman brought them back promising to do better and care for them. It lasted but for a short time when he went back to the Fox home where he has since resided. As a last resort, Mrs. Blackman instituted proceedings against Mr. and Mrs. Fox, charging alienation of her husband's affections.

Mr. and Mrs. Fox in their defense contended that they employed Blackman without any intention of wrong doing.

Nearly every man and woman in the Hornbrook section of Sheshequin township was in attendance at the hearing before the arbitrators, they being interested as witnesses.

Lilley & Wilson represented Mrs. Blackman, while Wm. Maxwell, Esq., was attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Fox. The case will probably be appealed.

KILLED BEAR OUT OF SEASON.

Tioga County Lumberman Fined $50—Will Carry Case to Courts.

While the blackberry crop, the corn crop, the buckwheat crop, and some others point to a small yield this year, the bear crop is looking up.

Daniel Linck, capitalist, lumberman and farmer, of Nauvoo, Tioga county, a mighty hunter, was assessed $50 by a local justice of the peace for killing a bear out of season.

Mr. Linck has had sheep killed and other depredations committed by some wild animals, and the tracks indicated that it was the work of a bear. He was out in the woods and discovered the alleged cause of his troubles, went to the house and got one of his numerous rifles and dispatched the bear on the spot.

A zealous officer heard the tidings and issued a warrant. Mr. Linck has appealed his case to the county court at Wellsboro. If the bear was the offender, under the law he had a right to kill it out of season.

Voters Alert.

The Philadelphia Daily Record says: "Bradford county voters are alert. In an editorial on Friday The Towanda Daily Review called attention to the registration law which compels voters in cities of the first, second and third class to register. There are no cities of any class in Bradford county, but before 9 o'clock Friday morning, armed with their tax receipts, many Towanda voters were hunting for the registration officers. They had misunderstood the editorial, but they did not propose to be caught napping."

Bother in Sayre.

Mr. and Mrs. George McNeal of Sayre, are under arrest in that village charged with being common scolds. They will be given hearings this week. The bother and arrests grows out of petty neighborhood quarrels, which are very common occurrences in Sayre.

Candidate for County Treasurer.

A. C. Blackwell of Towanda, has announced himself a candidate for the office of county treasurer, subject to the will of the Republican party. Mr. Blackwell is now deputy under County Treasurer Waters.

BONES IN THE RUINS

Gruesome Discovery in the Ashes of a Litchfield Barn.

MYSTERY YET TO BE SOLVED.

Charred Bones Which are Believed to Be Those of a Human Being Found in the Debris of the Martin Rogers Barn.

The finding of a gruesome pile of what is believed to be human bones in the ruins of the Martin Rogers barn near Litchfield will probably determine the cause of the blaze which destroyed not only the structure but a threshing machine, reaper, four wagong and a large quantity of farm machinery.

Mr. Rogers and his father used this barn as a storage barn for farm machinery and implements as well as for grain, hay, straw, etc. This season a quantity of hay had been stored there and the graneries held some oats and wheat left over from last year.

Origin of Fire a Mystery.

At the time of the fire its origin was a complete mystery as there had been no one at the barn for some time and no fires of any kind near it. It lies too far from the railroad to have been started from a spark from a passing engine and the theory of spontaneous combustion seemed hardly applicable. Many possibilities were advanced, but it was not until yesterday that the question seemed solved.

In looking through the ruins of the structure, directly beneath the stairway which led from the first to the second floor of the barn and very near the graneries, a visitor discovered a pile of bones and a closer investigation seemed to indicate that they were those of a human being. The tibia and fibula seemed easily distinguishable and in fact all the long bones of the body. The skull, however, could not be found, and the only explanation seems to be that pieces of the heavy machinery which stood almost over the spot where the body must have fallen, in crashing downward crushed the bones of the skull and these now lie buried under the iron and steel.

Since the finding of the bones under the stairway the belief has grown that a tramp may have sought lodging in the barn and that the flames came from a match or his pipe. He was doubtless asleep as they spread and upon attempting to descend by the stairway fell into the seething furnace below. Another rumor is to the effect that two tramps may have been domiciled at the barn which is some distance from any house and that one of them may have been killed in a quarrel and the building fired to cover all trace of the crime.

When first seen by neighbors the entire structure was a mass of roaring flames and no effort was made to save it. The barn was never used for stabling cattle and there were no animals there at the time of the fire.

P., B. AND E. ROUTE CHANGED.

New Plans Will Bring Proposed Road Through Towanda.

A news dispatch from Lock Haven says: "The directors of the proposed Pittsburg, Binghamton and Eastern railroad have officially confirmed the surveys for the line and changed the route for the road from the plans first given out. There is hardly a single mile of the original survey utilized in the final location, which is through a far better country for local traffic. Starting from the city of Binghamton, the road goes to Sayre, Towanda, Canton, Williamsport, Jersey Shore, Lock Haven, Renovo, Keating, and then to Clearfield, where connection is made for Pittsburg with the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg road.

"The new route from Clearfield to Lock Haven follows the river closely and crosses the Pennsylvania tracks above grade near Queen's Run, a few miles West of here. The road passes through Lock Haven on the North side of the Susquehanna river. The route East follows the river to Newberry, where a turn is made going North up Lycoming Creek. A portion of the road has been constructed from Canton towards Binghamton."

Horse Strayed or Stolen.

William Payne of Monroeton, is looking for a bay mare which became strayed or was stolen from Mehoopany Mountail last Wednesday night. Mr. Payne and a party were camping on the mountain, and his team was turned loose to pasture near a point known as "rattlensnake springs." Thursday morning the horse could not be found. Mr. Payne traced the animal some distance and then lost the trail. He searched two days without avail. The missing animal is marked with a white spot on one of the hind feet, and a white spot on the forehead.

Small advs. pay.

TWO MEN SENTENCED

Frank Delaney Goes to Huntington and Veley to the Pen.

BOTH OF THEM PLEAD GUILTY.

Delaney Robbed Durell Young Man, and Veley is the Artist Who Made Chicken Stealing a Profession and a Sorrow.

Two criminals, Frank Delaney of Scranton, and D. S. Veley of Waverly, both indicted for serious offenses, went into court Saturday, entered pleas of guilty and were sentenced by Judge Fanning. Delaney was sentenced to the Industrial school at Huntingon, while Veley was ordered to pay a fine of $50, costs of prosecution and to spend two years in the Eastern penitentiary.

Delaney is the young man who a few weeks ago, fell in with Harry Ellis of Durell, and after partaking of some booze, enticed the Durell citizen to a cool, quiet spot and touched him for his little wad and watch. The robbery and subsequent rounding up of Delaney forms an interesting chapter in local police history. Delaney was captured a short time after doing the job, and it will be remembered that the first Ellis knew that he had been touched was when told by Chief Miller.

Veley, the other man to admit his guilt to the court, made a profession of stealing chickens. He robbed three or four hen coops in North Towanda, and several others in this vicinity, selling the spoil of his raids to the local markets. He escaped into York state, but through some clever work on the part of the officers was rounded up on Pennsylvania soil and landed in the Towanda jail. Two years behind the bars is not so long, but it will give Veley time in which to map out a business that will not require such close attention during vacation time.

Sucked Snake Bite.

Raymond LeValley, residing in Tioga county, while camping along Pine creek, was attacked by a rattlesnake, which sank its fangs into one of his thumbs, puncturing the skin in two different places. The reptile coiled again for a second spring, but young LeValley sprang onto it with both feet and killed it before it had time to bite. He then took his knife and cut deeply into the bites and sucked the poison from the thumb. As a result he feels only the effects of a large swelling on his thumb.

Accident at Toy Factory.

James Laughlin, a young man employed in the Hawes-LaAanna toy factory had the misfortune to bring his left hand in contact with a buzz saw Tuesday morning, injuring the thumb so badly that Dr. T. Ben Johnson found it necessary to amputate the member at the first joint.

AN INCENDIARY AT SCRANTON.

Former Governor Pennypacker's Home Struck by Lightning—Intoxicated Man Climbs Church Steeple and Falls to His Death.

A movement has been started to organize a rural automobile service to link Spring City, Chester county, with Trappe, Montgomery county, taking in Royersford and Mingo, besides several villages, instead of building a trolley road.

Frank D. Geraghy and William Baxter of Philadelphia, the two young men who are to receive $5,000 if they work their way around the world in two years, have arrived in Wilkes-Barre.

James Scarlet of Danville, chief council for the Capitol Investigating commission, was voted $15,000 for his services, and his associate, James Stranahan, was voted $10,000. These fees were fixed by the commission, after a consultation with Governor Stuart.

For several weeks past there have been a number of incendiary fires in Scranton and on Saturday night there were three, causing much alarm. On Sunday Fred Zwick, who was arrested on suspicion, confessed that he had started a blaze in the rear of a clothing store, and it is believed that he started at least two dozen fires recently.

The largest and most imposing concrete arch ever built, has just been completed across the Wissahickon creek, at Walnut Lane, Germantown. The span is 223 feet between piers and the underside of the arch is 113 feet above the water. It is attracting wide-spread attention both from an engineering and architectural standpoint.

B. F. Bastain of Selinsgrove, dreamed early Monday morning that robbers were in his bakery. He arose and hurried to the shop to find, too late, that his dream had been a reality.

Fire destroyed the large three-story building occupied by the Monroe Democrat, in Stroudsburg Wednesday, causing a loss of $10,000. Lack of water handicapped the firemen and the business portion of the town was threatened.

While George Strayer of York, was smoking a cigar on Monday, live ashes dropped unnoticed on a celluloid collar he was wearing, setting it on fire. His neck was burned so badly that he is not expected to recover.

During a thunder storm, a few days ago, the home of former Governor Pennypacker, at Schwenksville, was struck by lightning. The roof of the historic mansion, which was once used as headquarters by General George Washington, was considerably damaged. The members of the family were not aware that the house had been damaged until several hours after the storm had passed.

Henry Ryan, a glassmaker, aged 36 years, climbed the spire of the county court house at Bradford, on Monday, and fell 130 feet to the ground, resulting in his instant death. It is reported he had been drinking and wanted to show that he was a good climber. A wife and two children survive.

There is an outbreak of typhoid fever and infantile paralysis of a peculiar character at Ridgeway, Elk county. In its population of 8,000 there have been 71 cases of typhoid fever within a month.

The directors of Oakwood cemetery, at Sharon, have put a ban on Sunday funerals, by permitting no interments to be made there on Sunday except in cases of contagious diseases where prompt burial is required.

For the first time since Fishing Creek was known to be a creek, the stream at points is practically dry. As a result hundreds of trout are dying, and the residents along it are suffering for want of enough water.

Richard Stickel, eight years old, of York, got his father's revolver and playfully pointed it at his baby sister, two years old. "Hold up your hands," he commanded. "Don't 'ou s'oot me," the little girl replied. Not knowing the revolver was loaded the lad pulled the trigger. The bullet struck the baby in the abdomen, causing almost instant death.

An Italian couple the male member of which was a prisoner in the Northumberland county prison at Sunbury, were married in the prison on Wednesday by Rev. Father McManus, whose home is at Plains, but now of St. Michael's Catholic church. On Saturday night the groom was taken to the prison charged with a serious offense. Immediately after the marriage he was released.

One applicant for membership on the State Railway commission has presented the governor with a bound volume of letters from prominent men all over the state asking that he be appointed, says The Harrisburg Star-Independent, which adds that from what can be learned the governor is going to make the appointments on this commission purely personal, and the element of politics will not be considered.

During the thunderstorm in Delaware county on Wednesday, Charles Young, aged 28 years, employed on the farm of Charles Yarnell, in Edgewood township, drove under an apple tree for shelter for his horse and himself, when the tree was struck by lightning and Young and the horse were killed.

Frank Pifer, Jr., of Pittsburg, aged 16 years, is at death's door, having just succumbed to fatigue and anxiety resulting from a three weeks nursing of his father at Johnstown and his mother at Pittsburg, both being ill at the same time with typhoid fever. By his careful attention they will recover while he is said to be dying.

A peculiar incident, which is said to be without parallel, occurred at the apiary of Frank Hagenbuch of Berwick, when the honey in two of the bee hives collapsed and before the accident was discovered the thousands of bees in the two hives were drowned or smothered in the sticky material.

A violent attack of toothache seized A. Beitman of Lynport, Berks county, on Wednesday while he was out driving. There was no dentist near, so he fastened a piece of strong twine around the tooth and tied the other end to a spoke of one of the front wheels of his vehicle, then, bracing himself started the horse briskly. A revolution of the wheel brought out the molar and also pulled Mr. Beitman out of his carriage.

The weasel bounties paid out by Luzerne county since the present bounty law went into effect are as follows: May, $17; June, $20; July, $53; August to date, $87. Total, $177. The increase in August of $70 over the May outlay inspires The Hazleton Sentinel to the opinion that the weasel farmers are getting onto their job. The Sentinel predicts that the new bounty law will cost Luzerne county $2,000 the first year.

Asa Camp has been in a serious condition for some time by reason of blood poisoning in his arm, caused by the prick of a thistle in his finger. Dr. J. C. Lee opened the arm from the elbow to the fingers and believes he has the case under control.

BOURNE.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Brown and family have been spending the past week with relatives in Columbia X Roads.

John Creighton and wife were recent visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitehead's.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Ross of Syracuse, have been the guests of their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. S K. Ross.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional indorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER.

N. N. BETTS DEAD.

Former Cashier of First National Bank Passes Away.

LIFE LONG TOWANDA RESIDENT

Died at the State Hospital at Danville Where He Was Taken For Treatment One Week Ago Today—Apoplexy Caused Death.

N. N. Betts, formerly cashier of the First National bank of Towanda, died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Danville hospital where he was taken for treatment on August 20. Apoplexy caused death. The death of Mr. Betts removes a man who had been identified with the business interests, the growth and wellfare of Towanda and its people for over half a century.

Sketch of His Life.

N. N. Betts was born in Towanda on Feb. 23, 1837, therefore being in his 70th year. He was the son of Nathaniel N. Betts, who came to Towanda from Oxford, N. Y., in 1820. On the organization of the First National bank of Towanda, and when it was chartered on July 19, 1863, Mr. Betts was elected cashier, a position he held until May 31, 1904, when he was compelled to relinquish the strenuous duties of the office on account of failing health. Mr. Betts held the unique record of being the only cashier that the First National had, with the exception of the present incumbent, U. M. Fell. Mr. Betts was a little past his majority when he became cashier of the bank and during the 41 years which he fulfilled the duties of the office, he enjoyed the confidence of every one that had dealings with the institution of which he was the chief officer. To his untiring efforts is due to considerable extent the important place which the First National occupies in the banking circles of this section. He was also president of the State Line and Sullivan Railroad for a number of years. Mr. Betts took an active interest in everything that pertained to the growth and good of the town, and was a moving spirit in many successful enterprises which helped to develop the borough.

When a young man he united with the Presbyterian church, and was always an active member, being for 35 years an elder and for 40 years a trustee.

Mr. Betts was the last of his father's family, and is survived by his wife, and the following children: Dr. E. P. Betts, Sayre; W. K. Betts, Towanda; Paul C. Betts, Greenville, Pa.; Alice K. Betts, Towanda; and Noble Betts of Naples, N. Y.

The Funeral.

Undertaker C. B. Maryott went to Danville Tuesday for the remains of the deceased. The funeral will be held at the family home at the corner of Third and Bridge streets, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock; interment will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mrs. John Murphy.

After submitting to two operations Mrs. John F. Murphy of New Albany, died at 11:40 o'clock Sunday morning at the Robert Packer hospital at Sayre.

Mrs. Murphy went to the hospital 17 days ago. She submitted to an operation for appendicitis and seemed to be recovering rapidly when she was attacked with intestinal strangulation. Saturday night it was realized that her condition was critical so at 2 o'clock Sunday morning the second operation was performed to relieve the strangulation, but the second operation did not avert death. Mrs. Murphy was 25 years of age and leaves her husband and two small children, one two years old and the other four months old. The body was taken to her late home in New Albany Monday morning.

Mrs. Emma Hitchcock.

Mrs. Emma Hitchcock died Thursday at 8 o'clock p. m., at the home of her son, Samuel J. Hitchcock, in Sayre. She had been ill only since last Tuesday night and her death was due to Uric poisoning. Her home was at Herrickville, Pa., and she went to Sayre on Tuesday for the purpose of visiting her son at whose house she died. That evening she was taken violently ill and rapidly grew worse until death relieved her. She is survived by her husband, D. B. Hitchcock, and eleven children. Two of the sons, Samuel J. and Jesse Hitchcock live in Sayre, and the others reside near Herrickville. She was 54 years of age, and had been a resident of this county all her life.

Rev. Father O'Burn Dead.

Rev. Father O'Burn, curate of the Dushore Catholic church, died at a New York hospital Wednesday morning after a brief illness with heart trouble. The reverend gentleman left Dushore only a few days ago to spend a ten days' vacation, stopping in Towanda enroute to New York city. He was taken suddenly ill and went to a hospital where he passed away. Deceased was 35 years of age, and was a native of Carbondale. The remains were taken to his parents' home in Carbondale where the funeral was held Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Horace G. McMillen.

Horace G. McMillen died at the home of his mother, Mrs. S. J. McMillen in Athens Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, having been confined to his bed since last December with a tumor He was 41 years old. He is survived by his mother and one sister, Mrs Edith White who resided at home Deceased was well known in Towanda and Monroeton where he formerly resided. The funeral was held at the home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Interment in Tioga Point cemetery.

Ward Brown.

Ward Brown, aged 32, died Saturday morning at 4:30 o'clock, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs Eugene Brown, in Sayre. His death was due to typhoid fever. He had been ill for the past four weeks, and was brought home from New York city, where he had been working, last Saturday. Nov. 18, 1903, he married Miss Grace Wright, of Sayre. He is survived by his wife, a daughter Helen, two years old, his parents, Mr and Mrs. Eugene Brown, all of Sayre and a sister, Mrs. George Ruch.

Eva Page.

Mrs. Eva May Page died at her home in Athens Thursday afternoon, aged thirty-three years after an illness of several months of rheumatism and grip. The deceased is survived by her husband and one daughter. The body will be taken to Watertown, N Y., for interment.

Mrs. W. H. Porter.

Mrs. W. H. Porter, wife of Rev. W H. Porter of Alba, died Wednesday morning. The funeral services were held Friday at 1:30 p. m., from the house and 2 p. m., from the Baptist church.

DEATH OF FATHER KELLY.

Former Curate of Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Passes Away.

Rev. Joseph Kelly, assistant pastor of Holy Rosary church of North Scranton, passed away at Minoka Monday evening shortly before 6 o'clock. Father Kelly was 34 years of age. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs John Kelly of Minoka. He was a graduate of St. Michael's college, Toronto, Canada, and was ordained to the priesthood eight years ago, by Rt Rev. Bishop M. J. Hoban.

Being in ill health, he went to the home of his parents in Minoka a week ago, to recuperate, but to no purpose Death came and cut short what bid fair to have been a brilliant and useful career.

He is survived by his parents and the following brothers and sisters John, Michael, Francis and William Mrs. Charles Moore of Taylor, and Misses Sarah, Mary and Ella Kelly.

Father Kelly was for a time assistant to Father Coroner of the Church of SS. Peter and Paul of Towanda going from here to Minoka in 1902 He made many friends during his stay in Towanda, both among his parishoners and protestants, and the will regret to learn of his untimely demise.

Sandwiches From Heaven.

When hundreds of ham and chicken sandwiches fell at Eagle's Mere during a thunderstorm the other day folks wondered what miracle was being performed which should cause food to drop from the heavens, says a dispatch from the mountain resort For twenty minutes the sandwiches fell, with now and then a chunk of chocolate cake, to vary the monotony Some olives and a few pickles also came along, and now and then pie. It was explained a few hours later, when a picnic party came along and told how a fornado had ripped up things at the grounds. The tables had been set and the dinner bell was about to be sounded when a rip-snorting wind came down through the woods and carried off every bit of food. Strangely enough several layer cakes were left behind, and the women who baked them were humiliated. They said that some unkind persons might think they were too heavy.

Spotted Adder Killed.

Last Saturday a spotted adder, one of the venomous reptiles, well known throughout this section years ago was killed at the home of E. B. Alderson, East of LeRaysville, says The Times. During the afternoon Mrs Alderson went into the cellar and while working there discovered the reptile lying on the wall about four feet from the cellar floor. Hurriedly she went up stairs and called Joseph Billings who was painting the house Mr. Billings went to the cellar and sure enough there was his snakeship After some maneuvering, he dislodged the reptile from his wall position. The snake tried to enter a crevice in the wall but was stopped by means of a long stick. After some trouble the adder was killed. It measured three feet and six inches. This is the first adder killed in this section in years

Damage Suits Pending.

Attorney L. T. Hoyt of Athens, is preparing to bring two damage suits against the Lehigh for damages which two clients claim were inflicted by the railroad company. One claim for damages is by a resident of Ulster, a woman, who was injured while standing on the station platform at Athens when a piece of coal dropped from the tank of an engine which was passing and injured one of her arms The other claim for damages is made by a man who was severely injured by being struck on a grade crossing near Wyalusing. The man was taken to Sayre, and was treated for exceptionally severe injuries at the Robert Packer hospital which resulted in his being crippled for life.

CHILD WAS DISEMBOWLED.

Fell Into Outhouse and a Hook Tore Open Its Body.

Ruth Neumar, aged eight years, whose parents reside at Bellevue, Scranton, met with a distressing accident Monday while playing about the yard. The child ran into an outhouse the floor of which gave way. Her body in falling came in contact with a nail or hook disemboweling her. The cries of her companions attracted fully a thousand people to the scene but none seemed to act with promptitude. John J. Jordan, a plumber, upon reaching the place at once leaped to the childs aid and commanded a passing teamster to drive with all haste to summon a physician. Mr. Gorman, with rare skill, replaced the intestines and bound them in such a manner as to save her life.

Dr. Halpert and a trained nurse hastened to the scene of the accident in an automobile. The child was taken to a hospital and an operation performed which is considered successful. The physicians highly commend Mr. Gorman's skill and state his actions probably saved te litle one's life.

A Fish Story.

To give an idea of how low the water is in the streams in this section can be done in no better manner than by giving an account of a small fishing trip indulged in by some boys along the Wyalusing creek. A few days ago a party out for a fish wanted to get some bait and began by carefully lifting up the large flat stones and feeling for the small fish underneath. In doing so one of the boys captured an eel in his hands and succeeded in getting the slimy fellow ashore. This caused the others to try the same means to get more and they succeeded beyond expectation. In a short time they had taken from under the stones some 15 fine eels. The manner of catching them was for one boy to feel them out and throw them to the shore where another boy kept them from getting back into the water.—LeRaysville Times.

Hornet's Nest Cost $500.

Last Saturday Elbert Guenter and Robert Vater, employed by Farmer George Lewis, of near Coudersport, in harvesting oats, were the means, in a unique way, of causing a very destructive fire. They discovered a hornet's nest near the edge of the oats field. They set a circle of fire around it to destroy it, but the flames gaining headway in the dry grass and stubble, spread with such rapidity as soon to be beyond any chance of control. The fire communicated with two hay barns, both stocked, destroying both, and entailing a loss of $500.

New Bond and Security Company.

A new bonding company has been formed in Buffalo, known as the Colonial Bond and Security company. The executive board consists of Col. Joseph J. Horton, president; Joseph P. Fell, vice-president; Francis L. Huff, second vice-president, and Walter Aspinwall, secretary and treasurer. The directors are Colonel Horton, Robert Keating, Joseph P. Fell, L. L. Westbrook, Charles A. Pooley, Walter Aspinwall, Francis L. Huff, Chas. Almy, George W. Ham, and M. V. Little. The company will deal in bonds on mortgages and real estate securities. President Horton is a former well known resident of Towanda.

Will Mark the Trees.

Some years ago several trees were planted in the Robert A. Packer hospital park at Sayre and named for men of national or local renown, such as James A. Garfield, late president of the United States, Bishop Howe, of the Episcopal diocese of Central Pennsylvania, Howard Elmer, Sidney Hayden and H. W. Thomas, three men who were prominently identified with the development of Sayre. Now it is proposed to have tablets placed on them with appropriate ceremony, so that their identity will be perpetuated.

Bank Directors Elected.

On Saturday the stockholders of the proposed bank at New Albany met and elected directors as follows: S. D. Sterigere, New Albany; C. E. Osthaus, Overton; L. C. Allen, O. W. Fawcett, John J. Layman, T. A. Keldar, E. L. Shepard, Clark Hakes, New Albany; Lloyd Strevy, John Sheedy, Overton; A. A. Schoch, Ricketts. Application has been made to the proper authorities for privilege to establish the bank, and it is expected that the enterprise will be carried to successful completion in due season.

Rome Graded School.

At an adjourned meeting of the school directors at Rome Monday the board completed the corps of teachers by electing Justin C. Lloyd, a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal school, as high school assistant. The faculty now consists of Robert B. Allen, supervising principal, J. C. Lloyd, assistant principal, Miss Ina Smith and Miss Eva Woodburn. The school opens Monday, Sept. 9. Copies of the three years course of study may be had on application to the principal.

WYALUSING FAIR.

Some Good Attractions for Annual Exhibit Next Week.

The Wyalusing fair will be held on the grounds at that place next week, Sept. 3, 4, 5 and 6, during which time there will be much to interest the crowds who will attend the annual exhibit.

The fair association will give $5 to the couple having the largest number of children on the grounds on Thursday, Sept. 5. This prize is offered with a view of discouraging race suicide in Bradford county in the vicinity of Wyalusing. On the afternoon of that same day, when the prize big family will be present, Towanda and Ulster will play ball a feature which alone will be worth going miles to see.

Train No. 4 will stop at Wyalusing on Sept. 4 and 5.

Blow From Cow's Tail Fatal.

A blow from a cow's tail caused the death of William F. Wells of Newark Valley, N. Y., last week. Toward night Mr. Wells went out to do the milking on his farm, and while milking a cow the animal, annoyed by flies, switched her tail, striking Mr. Wells on the forehead. A severe pain soon ensued; and a doctor was summoned, who found Mr. Wells suffering from a stroke of apoplexy superinduced by the blow from the cow's tail. He sank rapidly until death occurred. He was 56 years of age, and is survived by a wife.

Passed Up a Fortune.

Sooner than betray his friends who furnished him money with which to carry out his experiments, Peter A. Kline of Bloomsburg, inventor of the Kline-Buss smokeless powder, has recently refused offers aggregating $1,000,000 for the secret of his wonderful invention. Had he accepted he would have been one of the richest men in this section of the state.

VOTED TO BOND.

Owego Tax Payers Cast 125 Votes in Favor to 30 Against.

A special election was held in Owego Tuesday, from 9 a. m., to 2 p. m., on the question of bonding the village for $15,000 to be paid in 15 equal installments to meet the cost of paving North avenue between Temple and Main streets, and Main and Front streets from Church street to Park street, or to pay the whole cost next year.

The polls closed at 2 o'clock and the result was known in a very few minutes. There were 156 votes cast of which one was blank and 30 were against bonding and 125 were in favor.

Thus the Owego people have registered their approval of bonding the village for permanent improvements.

Bumper Yield of Oats.

The Troy Gazette-Register says: "Theoretically as well as practically it's the last hundred bushels of any crop that pays. Interest on invested capital, plowing, harrowing and harvesting are about the same for 30 bushels of oats for example as for 40 or 50 bushels to the acre. Here is report of a crop in Granville, not from the grower, but from one who knows of 1,600 bushels, threshers' measure, from 40 acres on L. D. May's farm. They weighed 40 pounds to the bushel. in other words, overran the legal weight of 25 per cent. so that the real yield, standard measure, was just 50 bushels to the acre. Thirty bushels is perhaps more than an average yield. At the present price of oats, Mr. May's 20 bushels to the acre over the average would mean an extra income from the field of more than $200. We are not writing this to puff May, but to encourage the weak hearted to go after bumper crops on their own acres."

Here is hoping that the P., B. and E. strikes Towanda. The county seat needs more railroads.

You would not accept counterfeit money, why accept counterfeit goods? Insist on having what you ask for.

Lovely weather for those citizens who have been away on a vacation to repair to the back yard and take a much needed rest.

You exercise your own mind when you ask for an advertised article, therefore, insist on getting what you ask for when making a purchase. The dealer who substitutes relies on his ability to make you change your mind. He will give you what you ask for if you refuse a substitute.

A Kansas City man is convinced that advertising pays. He advertised for a lost $5 bill and a stranger, who had picked up one on the streets, read the advertisement and restored the bill to the advertiser. A few days later, while looking over a waist coat he had laid off, the original bill was found in a pocket. He says advertising pays 100 per cent.—Utica Press.

Dr. John A. Hutton, an eminent Scotch divine, now in this country, in a recent address expressed his views on the current literature of the day. He declared that much of it would have been unprintable when he was a boy. Modern libraries, he said, were doing much harm and destroying the taste of young readers for good literature by offering them the miserable fiction of the day. There is no fiction in that statement. Every word of it is true. The circulating library of the present day would go out of existence if it refused to serve its customers with the miserable stuff publishers are unloading on the public today. The literature they advertise to attract patrons bears about the same proportion to genuine educational literature that Falstaff's sack did to his bread. But the evil is upon us; the libraries cater to it, and there seems to be no remedy.

Hazleton and some other near-by towns have taken the right course. She is arresting scores of foreigners for carrying concealed weapons. The authorities are of the opionion that most of the crimes committed in that locality are due to the pernicious practice of foreigners in carrying arms continually. Orders have been given to the State Constabulary to arrest and search every suspicious character. It is a notorious fact that most of these people go about constantly armed. Why should they do this any more than our own citizens? The search should be frequent the whole year through. If this were done we have not the slightest doubt that far fewer crimes would be heard of than is now the case. A stiff fine and the confiscation of the weapons should go with every case discovered. A search of foreigners in and about Towanda, would bring to light enough weapons to equip an army.

The law which does not appear to be generally known by our land owners is commented on by the Milton Evening Standard in these words: "A drive over the country roads demonstrates the fact that farmers are not familiar with the act of assembly of 1879. The act provides: 'Persons planting trees on road sides to be allowed credit on road tax. Any person liable to road tax, who shall transplant to the side of the public highway on his own premises any fruit, shade trees or forest tree of suitable size shall be allowed by the supervisor of roads where roads run through or adjoin cultivated fields in abatement of his road tax one dollar for every four trees set in.' The amount of credit for planting of trees is limited to 25 per cent. of the whole amount of the road tax. This is a subject that should receive the attention of every farmer, not only throughout Northumberland county, but throughout the commonwealth. It is a matter of pleasure for all persons who have occasion to use our public highways and to the farmers who take advantage of the law it is also a source of profit."

Small advs. pay.

ONE CENT LETTER POSTAGE.

There is always a large party of postal reformers in this country which is demanding one-cent letter postage. The only argument is that cheaper postage will so increase the letter writing tendencies of our people that twice as many letters will be sent under a one-cent law as are now sent under the two-cent rate. The same arguments have long been heard in Great Britain, but in spite of them that country is unwilling to exchange the steady revenue she derives from her two-cent postage for a deficit which she is certain would result.

Both in this country and Great Britain will be more than inclined than ever to stick to their present letter rates after carefully studying the results that have been obtained in France by reducing the postage on letters from 3 to 2 cents. The reduction went into operation nine months ago. The diminution in the receipts from the first-class mail matter during the first nine months since the new law went into operation has amounted to $4,547,280, to which should be added the increased cost of the service, amounting to $871,720 additional, or a total of $5,329,000, or about $7,000,000 per annum. The increase in the number of letters sent was less than ten per cent. and most of that is believed to have resulted, not from the lower postage rate, but from the natural business increase.

It is pretty certain that the experiment of introducing penny postage would be accompanied with even more decided losses in the United States than in France. The latter is a compact country, much more thickly inhabited than our own. It needs no prophet to foretell the result if we should cut our letter-rate postage in two. An enormous deficit would most certainly result, and, instead of becoming a source of revenue to the country, as it is hoped it will some day become, we should be staggering under a deficit for decades to some. Our Postoffice department has never paid expenses, the shortage running into millions annually. It is bad enough as it is, without increasing the evil. If the congress is wise, it will profit by the experience that France is giving us through her own experiences.

THE "RED SCHOOL HOUSE."

In an article on the ventilation of school houses the Norristown Herald to make a proper comparison of past and present methods goes back fifty years and says: "Those who, as children, attended the 'little red school house' with its stove in the center of the floor and no provision whatever made for ventilation beyond the raising or lowering of the windows will appreciate the meaning of an act of the last legislature making provision for these two features. It will be remembered that the three zones of the earth's temperature could be studied in the old school rooms. No one was better aware of this fact than the pupils themselves. On a cold wintry day, when the stove was piled with fuel to its fullest capacity, those who occupied seats near the prolific heat producer resided for the time being in the torrid zone. At the distant corners of the room to which the heat penetrated but slightly, the frigid zone had its object lesson, while those pupils who sat midway were neither too hot nor too cold and occupied the more desirable temperate zone." There are still some such three-zone school rooms to be found but many are greatly improved and if the new act is properly carried out a few years hence will find a great improvement in school ventilation.

GIRLS AND OUTDOOR LIFE.

Few social changes have been more marked in recent years than the change which has come about in the attitude of the average young American woman with regard to outdoor life. This is especially true during the Summer time; but it also applies to much the larger portion of the entire year. The typical American girl no longer sits pale and fragile, upon the porch engaged in fancy work, while her brothers and masculine acquaintances enjoy themselves in healthful sports. She plays tennis, and rows boats, she climbs mountains, she frolics in the surf, and in many other ways shows a confirmed perference for wholesome exertion in the sunshine and the breeze. The effects of this tendency are becoming more perceptible with each recurring year in the improved physical development of scores of thousands of women who will be among the mothers of the next generation. It is something more than a mere fad. And it deserves cordial approbation, as an important factor in the betterment of American citizenship of both sexes.

Advocating the necessity of inhaling pure air the Chester Times says: "Some people in this city have not yet discovered that fresh air is necessary to peaceful and healthful slumber. They have the ridiculous notion that night air is harmful and full of poison; accordingly they try to keep all of it out of the bedroom. There is nothing so fatal to sound sleep and a clear brain in the morning as what has been termed the 'odor of imprisoned sleep,' which is to say the noxious gases resulting from air that has been repeatedly breathed. Keep your bedroom windows open."

All dealers in groceries and other goods coming within the purview of the pure food law of the commonwealth will do well to heed Commissioner Foust's warning that it will be well to "clean house." In other words, if they have any goods on their shelves for which they lack a guarantee, they sell the same at their own risk.

THE WHITE OAK.

In all ages and strong climes the oak has been the symbol of power and stability. England is typified in the oaks of her parks and the wood work of the baronial halls. The old battleship was a heart of oak, the Sybil had it for her sacred groves, and it shaded the porches of Academe. Under its branches the Druids worshiped and its pararite, the misteltoe, has become a symbol of the Christmas tide. Oak, bay and cypress leaves formed the crown of victory for the athlete and the lance of the knight was its polished strength. It has been sung in song and story. Cowper's best lines were addressed to Yardley oak.

This noble tree is fast disappearing, for its uses are many and its growth slow. At fifty it is but a child and at a hundred not a patriarch. The chief source of our supply now is along the Appalachian region and in the slopes Western to the Mississippi.

West Virginia, with an estimated stumpage of nearly 5,000,000,000 board feet, has more than one-third of the standing white oak in this region. The state of Kentucky still has over 2,500,000,000 feet, and Tenneesee little over 2,000,000,000 feet. Virginia and North Carolina follow next in order with over 1,000,000,000 each. White oak is one of the most widely distributed and commercially important trees of the United States, and its total annual product of over 2,000,000,000 feet of lumber is more than double that of any other hardwood. The wood is compact and close grained, hard, tough, strong, heavy and durable in contact with the soil. By a peculiar mode of sawing by which the boards are cut nearly parallel to the pith rays, the silver grain is shown, furnishing the handsomely figured panels, ceiling and molding of "quarter-sawed" oak. White oak is the favorite timber for railroad crossties, and of the 90,000,000 ties purchased each year nearly one-half are of oak, the greater part of which are white oak. It is also an ideal material for tight cooperage manufacture. Other uses are for car stock, boards, planking, beams, dimension stuff of all sizes, shipbuilding, tool handles, wagon spokes and furniture and basket veneer. Red oak and black oak exceed white oak in rapid growth and early maturity, but the latter has a marked advantage in its greater ability to withstand shading, its longevity, and in its inherent resistance to decay, insects and fungi.

In view of its many uses, its limited supply and its slow growth, it will not be long till we have no more of the noble tree save in an occasional yard or in the park or preserves of the rich. Because of its slow growth few people plant it—that is, the white oak, noblest of the species—as a hundred years hence seems a far off eternity offering no profit to the present sons of men.

Let those who have an oak or two on their farms, in their yard or lawn guard it as they would the apple of the eye.

MARRIAGE.

Marriage is and will remain something of a venture, a lottery with the prizes greatly outnumbering the blanks. Some of the matrimonial argosies are destined never to reach a calm heaven. These, happily, are few relatively to those that set sail. The consensus of mankind is that this relation is desirable and profitable to all things. That marriage with some men requires heroism is not to be doubted. There is a touch of the venturesome in marriage in many instances. The ravens must feed some families. There is a standing controversy between the political economist and the advocates of early marriages, the former opposing them on the ground that it is a condition of the national well-being that the standard of comfort shall not be lowered by improvident marriages. The argument never restrained any one about to marry. In matrimonial affairs men and women consult their hearts and not the deliverances of the sages. The young husband enters gaily upon the venture, determined to do his best to ransom the hostages, and usually succeeds in ransoming them. It has not been established that marriage disqualifies men for great enterprises and abounding prosperity; indeed, in matrimony, as in other relations that test one's quality, one is developed by responsibilities. We often see this exemplified in the success of men called to great station who had previously made no impression upon the world as the possessors of gifts required for the duties of the place. The great majority of marriages are contracted by young, poor and inexperienced persons, who must exercise provision and industry to maintain a home and family. A young man requires precisely this sort of discipline if he is to obtain a firm foothold in life. So far from being a deterrent, it is believed that early marriage is a stimulant to the attainment of any kind of success.

The Chicago Milk Wagon drivers' union is in bad shape. There is a mysterious disappearance of $20,000 from its treasury and the bank account is overdrawn. At the International Boot and Shoe Men's union at Toronto, gross regulations were discovered in the election of office—the ballot boxes were stuffed. Too bad, the trail of the serpent seems to be found in all ranks and among "all sorts and conditions of men."—Wilkes-Barre Times.

A telegraph operator, who had been working in New York more than 24 hours at a stretch, without rest or sleep, jumped on his desk suddenly Thursday and shouted that he was going to give every telegrapher a thousand dollars a day! The wage was too small in his own case. He was insane from overwork and loss of sleep.

THE BLESSINGS OF SLEEP.

When a man is sleeping he is out of mischief. It is one of the most absolutely innocent things he can do, says the New York Mail. All the poets have spoken well of the habit. Sleep is "balmy," "dewy," "tired nature's sweet restorer," etc., and Sanchot Janza, it is remembered, called blessings down on the head of the astute person who first invented it.

It is one of the paradoxes of our civilization that sleep, innocent though it is, has become so thoroughly disreputable when it is in the public eye. If a high city official or one of our judges were found asleep on a bench in a small city park it would cost him his honorable fame and might cost him his office. Men would say he was "soused" or intellectually unsettled. No woman, no matter how respectable, can go to sleep in a public place or conveyance without being nudged into wakefulness by some official guardian of the properties. The man who dozes off is likely to be aroused by the noise of a policeman's stick beating a tattoo on his soles.

It seems that sleep may be like that equally innocent institution, religion.

"This is no place to get religion," was the stern rebuke administered, as the authentic anecdote has it, by the sexton of a fashionable church when an old colored mammy gave that as an excuse for the pious ejaculations that had disturbed the course of the Sunday morning services, it is agreed, are no place to indulge in the innocent relaxations, of slumber.

To sleep there is to raise the suspicion that you have no regular domicile and no pew in a church, and therefore are inferentially an undesirable citizen. The somnolent one is in danger of being robbed and thereby putting a scandal on a public place, remunerating the wicked and adding to the tasks of the police. He betrays either a shameful confidence in the honesty of his fellow men or a shameless indifference to their scandalized disapprobation. He is in a state of mental dishabille. He embarrasses men by following a policy of disarmament to which they are reluctant to subscribe. He irritates them by his degenerate communism, his willingness to instruct his personal safety, his immediate personal effects—and perhaps his permanent support—to the community at large.

Despite their collective fads, men are pretty individualistic after all. It disgusts them to see other men asleep in the open. They are none too well pleased when people eat in the streets, and there are evidences of a growing protest against spooning. The roof-tree has not lost its function, nor life the need for its reticence.

THE NEWSPAPER GRIND.

It costs a country newspaper money every time it makes a stand on any question.

Any other citizen can do so without injuring his business, because he is not put on record. When a newspaper publishes anything, it is there in black and white and no way to get around it. If the editor advocates improvements, the mossbacks go after him, and sometimes stop their paper. If he opposes improvements, the progress sort get on his frame and call him a back number. If he boosts the churches the liberal element call him crazy and if he doesn't the church people say he's going to the devil. If he publishes local news, some say it is all nonsense and if he doesn't, he gets it in the neck from those who look for the short items. If he publishes politics the opposition gets into his hair and if he doesn't he is charged with being afraid to stand out for his opinion. If he condemns mail order houses, there are some people who ask him to attend to his own business as they have a right to trade where they please. If he publishes mail order ads the home merchant goes after his gore. No country paper can come square out and stand up for its rights without making enemies and losing money, and in the run of a year or two it will incur some criticism from nearly everybody.

But this should not be discouraging. The newspaper that undertakes to please everybody will please nobody.

WHAT ADVERTISING DOES.

A newspaper has 5,000 readers for each 1,000 subscribers. A merchant who puts out 1,000 handbills gets possibly 300 or 400 people to read them—that is, if the boy who is trusted to distribute them does not chuck them under the sidewalk. The handbills cost as much as a half column advertisement in the home paper. All the women and girls and half the men and boys read the advertisement. Result—the merchant who uses the newspaper has 3,500 more readers to each thousand of the paper's readers. There is no estimating the amount of business that advertising does bring to a merchant, but that each dollar invested in advertising does bring to the investor somewhere from $20 to $100 worth of business there can be no doubt.

The boys and girls and their parents are thinking about the first day of school, which is not very far distant. Most of the parents are arranging for the proper clothing of the lads and lasses while the latter, if they are the right sort, are thinking eagerly of the morning when the new term will open.

If there is a chance to boom business, boom it. Don't put on a long face and look as though you had a stomach-ache. Hold up your head, smile and look for better things. Hide your little hammer, and try to speak well of others, no matter how small you know yourself to be.

EVERY MAN'S TIME.

Every man must patiently abide his time. He must wait, not in idleness, not in useless pastime, not in querulous dejection, but in constantly steadily filling and accomplishing his task, that when the occasion comes he may be equal to it. The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, without a thought of shame. If it comes at all it will come because it is deserved, not because it is sought after. It is a very indescreet and troublesome ambition which cares so much about what the world says of us; to be always anxious about what the effect of what we do or say; to be always shouting to hear the echoes of our own voices.

Women who are members of soap premium clubs will be interested to know that under the guise of revising the law respecting the imposing of a license on brokers, there has been passed by the last legislature a law requiring persons who sell soaps, perfumes, etc., for premiums to pay a mercantile license of $10. The new law enumerates the brokers as follows: Stock brokers, bill and note brokers, exchange brokers, factors and commission merchants and merchandise brokers. Merchandise brokers are those who for a commission or other compensation make contracts for the sale or purchase of personal property for others. Under that clause it is believed that the state will next year tax all persons who sell soap, perfumes, etc., for premiums. The tax will be ten dollars.

The city of Butte, Montana, is in the throes of an enforced "halcyon and vociferous holiday. Wire communication with the rest of the country is cut off by a joint strike of the telegraph and telephone operators. The mail clerks have struck in the postoffice, crippling the dispatch and distribution of mails, and the strike of the machinists is gradually tying up the work in the mines. The machinists are paid $4.50 per day, but want $5. Butte lies prostrate—a sleeping "beaut."—Philadelphia Record.

It is now asserted that the growing prohibition sentiment in the South is the result of labors of those who desire to keep liquor away from the black man. The South depends largely upon colored labor, and whiskey has a demoralizing influence upon the negro. The white man can generally procure his liquid refreshment in wholesale quantities, and can keep a sufficient stock on hand, at all times, to guard against emergencies.

The prophet of disaster is the one prophet who is not without honor in his own country. The people love him as a brother, and he is in fact own kin to that countless race whose pride in life is to say, "I told you so."—New York Tribune.

There are many reasons why you ask for advertised articles, but absolutely none why you should let a substituting dealer palm off something which he claims to be "just as good" or "better" or "the same thing" as the article you requested.

The buying public recognizes the superior quality of advertised articles. The substitutor realizes that fact and tries to sell inferior goods on the advertiser's reputation.

It is said that opportunity knocks but a few times at man's door. But the fellows who 'knock" the man have been known to keep at it continuously for a whole season.

PROF. HUNT'S ADDRESS

Noted Agricultural Expert Speaks at LeRaysville.

SCIENTIFIC FARMING PAYS.

Dean of the Pennsylvania State College, Says Good Openings Await Young Men With Agricultural Training.

The picnic of Pomona grange at LeRaysville Friday was an interesting event to the farmers of the Eastern end of Bradford county, and several hundred of them were in attendance. In addition to the usual features of a grange picnic the farmers had as their guest Prof. Thomas F. Hunt, dean and director of the School of Agriculture and Experiment Station of the Pennsylvania State college.

Prof. Hunt gave an interesting address to the farmers, his remarks being aimed particularly at the young men whom he encouraged to seek a college education. He discussed the practical side of the case and pointed out to the young men some of the positions open to those who study agriculture and do not have a farm to return to or the money to buy one. Saying that his remarks were directed to those who prepare themselves for their work in the same painstaking way that they would for one of the professions Prof. Hunt pointed out that the positions open to the agricultural graduate may be grouped into four classes as follows:

(1) As superintendents of farms.
(2) As employees of the United States Department of Agriculture.
(3 As teachers and investigators in colleges of agriculture and experiment stations.
(4) And as editors of agricultural newspapers.

How the Field Opens.

The speaker then explained the openings under the various groups and in the course of his remarks upon superintendents of farms he said:—

"There is a constant demand for men with proper training as managers of farms. These positions are difficult to fill because the young man graduating in agriculture often has the same lack of experience in farming that the young doctor has in the practice of his profession. Men seeking farm managers usually have valuable property such as registered live stock, and they prefer to have the young graduate practice on some one's else farm before trying theirs. But frequently these places pay $1,000 a year to young graduates."

There is a much broader field in government and state employ, Prof. Hunt thought, and he had this to say about the outlook here:—

"The United States Department of Agriculture employs upwards of 5,000 people, about 2,000 of whom are graduates of agricultural and similar colleges. There is a constant demand for young men to recruit this service, including experts in soil, plant production, farm management, animal husbandry, dairying, chemistry, forestry, etc. Young men begin in these positions at $800 to $1,000 a year. When they are sent out into the field, as many of them are, their expenses are paid, including their subsistence. They may rise rather rapidly to $1,600 or $1,800 a year, then rather more slowly to $2,500 and than on to $3,500 or $4,000 a year.

"A little over a year ago a representative of the Bureau of Soils came to me and said: 'We want 12 men.' Six were furnished them—four at $1,000 a year, two at $1,200. One of these men had gone in debt for his college education. Fifteen months after he obtained his first wages he canceled that debt. The Pennsylvania State college has offered him $1,500 a year to teach soils."

In Agricultural Schools.

The demand for men by the states will be particularly heavy in the forestry department within the next few years, and trained men are needed in the agricultural schools and experiment stations, Prof. Hunt said, adding:—

"The experience of the School of Agriculture and Experiment Station of the Pennsylvania State college in trying to get men is a striking example of this demand. The professorship of horticulture at $2,500 a year was offered to a young man who had taken his last degree from an agricultural college less than two years ago, and he declined it. An assistant professorship at $1,800 was then offered to a still younger man and he declined it. Both declined it because they thought they saw better opportunities elsewhere.

"This proposition was then offered to a man who was still a candidate for a degree at $1,500 a year and he declined it. He has since accepted a position in horticulture at a higher salary. The other day a young man was asked whether he would consider the position of instructor in poultry husbandry at Pennsylvania State college at $1,500 a year. This young man graduated from college two years ago Fifteen hundred dollars a year to a man to teach about hens, and he declined it! Why? Because there are so few men who think it worth their while to study hens that men who know hens are in demand."

After stating that agricultural newspaper work offers an attractive field for young men who are properly trained and have a taste for this kind of work Prof. Hunt spoke of the remuneration which agricultural college graduates get:

"The average compensation of 55 out of 122 recent graduates of State college whose salaries are known is $1,300 a year," he said.

"This is, in most instances, their initial salary. A short time ago I compiled the first salary of 21 persons who had been students of mine. The average was $1,030 a year."

These results were only obtained by men of ability, integrity and industry, but Prof. Hunt said in conclusion that he thought they proved that agricultural pursuits offer reasonable emoluments to the industrious.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY SEAT.

ORWELL HIGH SCHOOL.

Fifth Year of This Excellent School Begins Next Monday.

The Orwell Township High school will open for its fifth year on Monday, Sept. 2. With the same efficient corps of instructors as last year the directors are expecting the largest and best school in the history of the institution. Prof. Lewis, who already holds a diploma from the West Chester State Normal, and has had a course at Haverford college, spent his vacation as a student at the University of Pennsylvania, and comes back better prepared than ever for his year's work. Miss Hamilton and Mr. Robinson, both well and favorably known teachers of several years' experience, are his assistants.

Courses will be given to aid those preparing to teach or enter Normal schools and colleges.

Friends should remember that the attendance is not restricted to residents of Orwell township. All who are qualified to enter upon the High school course will be received and welcomed. For particulars address S. B. Cass, secretary, R. F. D., No. 16, Rome, Pa., or C. P. Lewis, principal, Orwell, Pa.

A Serious Fracas.

A fracas occurred at Nicholson on Wednesday night after the Seven-County reunion held there that day, which may result fatally to one of the parties. Herbert Mulligan and Herbert Card, both of Susquehanna county, were there that day and it is said there was a grievance of some kind existing between them. That night they got together and a fight took placé. Knives were drawn and Mulligan was cut in the face, neck and breast. Card was cut in the hand, but got away. A warrant was issued and Card was located in a barn near his home in Susquehanna county. He attempted to escape, but the constable captured him and took him to the Tunkhannock jail. He will be held to await the result of Mulligan's injuries.

Reconcillation in Blackman Family.

A reconcilliation has been effected between Harry L. Blackman and his wife, Mary R. Blackman, who have been at law since last spring. Mrs. Blackman, this week was awarded $435 damage from Mr. and Mrs. De Witt Fox of Hornbrook, for the alienation of her husband's effection. They have been estranged for the past four years during which time Mr. Blackman has lived at the Fox home. Mr. Blackman had been indicted for desertion and his case was passed upon in court Friday, the case being continued until the first Monday of October, Mr. Blackman giving a bond for his appearance at that time. Through the attorneys for Mr. Blackman and his wife, a reconcillation has been effected, and he will again take his place in the bosom of his family, pending the final disposition of the case by the courts.

Purchased Real Estate.

C. E. Murphy of Towanda, is now the owner of two more nice properties. On Saturday he purchased at executor's sale, the Richard Bustin estate in Wysox township, which was auctioned at the Decker hotel in Wysox by Morris Shepard, for James Sullivan and George Bustin, the executors. Mr. Murphy this week purchased of George W. Blackman the residence property on Fourth street between Bridge and Elizabeth streets, which has been known as the Hillis property.

B. F. DUNFEE DEAD.

Well Known Towandian and Prominent Railroader Passes Away

STRENUOUS CAREER ENDS.

Life of Great Activity and Usefulness Comes to a Peaceful Close—Battled Against Death For Ten Long Weeks—Funeral Saturday.

Benjamin Franklin Dunfee, one of Towanda's best known and most highly esteemed citizens, and a man very prominent in local railroad circles, died at his home on William street Wednesday afternoon at 1:45, after a long illness with inflamation of the brain. At the bedside when dissolution took place, was his devoted wife and children, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dunfee of Monroeton. The end was peaceful and apparently without pain.

Ten weeks ago Mr. Dunfee was taken ill with hiccoughs which were ascribed to a nervous ailment of the stomach. Inflamation of the brain developed and his condition was serious from the first. A couple of weeks ago he had sufficiently recovered to be up and dressed, but the improvement was only temporary, for he again became alarmingly ill, and for several days the end was hourly expected. His rugged constitution and determination to live stood him in well, the hand of death being repeatedly fought away. But alas, the constitution weakened by the weeks of suffering gave way under the strain, and in spite of the best of medical assistance, careful attention and everything that mortal hands could do, the silent summoner beckoned, and Wednesday shortly after midday, the tired eyes closed in the majestic sleep of death and the weary, pain racked body was at rest.

Short Sketch of His Career.

B. Frank Dunfee was born in Monroeton on Nov. 30, 1866, the son of Mr.

B. FRANK DUNFEE.

and Mrs. John Dunfee, well known and prominent residents of that place. He attended the Monroeton schools, and spent his youth in that village, where he was the moving spirit in most everything that pertained to life and enjoyment among the young people. He was a member of the baseball team which made Monroeton famous in this section back in the eighties, and gained the distinction of being the best all around player and athlete in the county at that time.

About 18 years ago he came to Towanda, and secured employment as a brakeman on the Bernice branch of the Lehigh. He entered into railroading with all the vim and spirit which was characteristic of him and from the first day, commenced to climb the ladder to prominence in his chosen profession. He was promoted to conductor in which capacity he served with great credit, and came to be known to every railroad man in this section.

He made a study of railroading, a science of managing and running trains, and knowing the book of rules from cover to cover, became to be one of the Lehigh's most valuable employees, the company having appreciated his true worth and recognized his great ability utilized him to instruct other railroad men. The Lehigh maintains a school for railroaders and Mr. Dunfee was one of the instructors in that educational institution for the development of trainmen. He was not only well known from the fact that he was a thorough railroad man, but he was also prominently identified with union work. He was an enthusiastic member of Southern Tier Division, No. 10, Order of Railroad Conductors of Sayre, was a past grand conductor of the order and for years did faithful service as chairman of the O. R. C. grevience committee. He was a general favorite and very popular among the railroaders and will be greatly missed along the iron highway in this section.

Ambitious and energetic Mr. Dunfee did not know what an idle moment was. His spare time was spent in literary work he being talented in that line, and his writings on railroad topics were much sought by the newspapers and railway magazines. When but a boy he was Monroeton correspondent of the Bradford Republican, thus gaining his first experience in newspaper work. It was not until he commenced to write for The Daily Review under the non de plume of "The Iron Highwayman," furnishing a column of railroad news each week, that he gained more than local distinction in the literary field. His articles in The Review were copied far and near, and "The Iron Highwayman," was considered an authority on all matters pertaining to railroad work. During the past four years he had been Towanda correspondent of the Elmira Telegram, serving very acceptably in that capacity. Thus the last eighteen years of his 40 years of life were spent. His eagerness to work and his desire to be in the thickest of the strenuous life overtaxed his strength, and to this is due, principally his breaking down physically and early demise.

For a time he took much interest in local politics and was elected school director, filling that office very satisfactorily.

In church circles he was also prominent, being a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and a member of the A. D. Dye Bible class. In secret societies he took an interest, being a member of the Improved Order of Red Men, the Towanda Aerie of Eagles, and the Monroeton lodge of Odd Fellows in addition to the railway societies of which he was a member. He was also a member of the Franklin Steamer company of the Towanda fire department.

Deceased was a gentleman whom everybody liked and esteemed. Always cheerful, of a friendly disposition he was a man whom it was a pleasure to know. His home life was ideal and he was never happier or more contented than when doing something for his wife and children whom he idolized. When not at work he was to be found at home basking in the sunshine and love of his family, there he found his comforts and his joys, and in that home from which he has been taken just in the Summer time of his life as it were, there has been made a vacancy which never can be filled.

Mr. Dunfee was married 16 years ago to Miss Ida Frey of Dushore, who with two children, John and Elizabeth Dunfee, mourn the loss of a devoted husband and kind, indulgent father. He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dunfee of Monroeton, one sister, Mrs. Edward Mitchell of Powell, and one brother, Edward Dunfee of Laquin.

Funeral Saturday.

The funeral of the late B. Frank Dunfee was held at the Dunfee home on William street, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was very largely attended, large delegations of the Order of Railway Conductors, Ladies' Auxiliary of that organization, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Improved Order of Red Men and Odd Fellows, of which deceased was a member, being in attendance. The casket in which the remains of the departed rested, lay in a bower of beautiful flowers, and was laden with handsome floral emblems from each of the fraternal organizations. Rev. J. S. Stewart, D.D., conducted the services which were very impressive, the reverend gentleman delivering an eloquent, heart soothing sermon, filled with hope and comfort for the relatives of the deceased.

At the conclusion of the services the members of the secret societies formed an aisle from the house to the train down which the casket was carried by six pallbearers selected from the membership of the fraternal organizations. A special train made up of four coaches and a baggage car, conveyed the funeral party to Monroeton where interment was made. Nearly 300 people were on the train, over 100 railroad men from Sayre being among the number. On the arrival of the funeral train at Monroeton, considerable delay was experienced by the heavy downpour of rain. The casket was carried from the train to the cemetery by relays of pallbearers. Undertaker C. B. Maryott was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

At the grave Dr. Stewart offered prayer, after which the Order of Railroad Conductors carried out their beautiful, impressive burial service. The special train left Monroeton on the return trip at 5 o'clock.

Four Marriage Licenses.

Monday was a busy day for Register and Recorder Dewey, he issuing no less than four marriage licenses during the afternoon. Permits to wed were granted to the following: J. W. Davidson of Sayre, and Gracie Jones of Towanda; Horace Morgan of Waverly, and Teresa Dyer of Towanda; George H. Heath of Ulster, and Ellen J. Stark of Wharton, N. J.; Jerome Brice and May Henrietta Munson, colored, both of Towanda. Miss Munson gave her age as 16.

In Jail Out of Jail.

George Carter, colored, was released from jail Saturday morning, and the same evening was placed back behind the bars on a surety of the peace charge preferred by his son-in-law, Harry Adsit. It is alleged that Carter threatened Adsit's life.

Subpoenas in Divorce.

Subpoenas in divorce have been awarded in the case of Ida Vanderpool vs. Andrew Vanderpool, both of Monroeton, and Norman Brown vs. Anna Grover Brown of Standing Stone.

WAYWARD BOY LANDS IN JAIL.

Son of Prominent New Yorker Will Serve Ten Days on Stone Pile.

The Sayre-Times Record says: "In spite of the fact that his father is stenographer in the appellate division of the supreme court of the state of New York, Rodger Stordy was taken from the Sayre lock-up Friday evening and placed in the county jail at Towanda.

"Stordy says that he was educated at an academy in New York city and after graduation ran away from home. He sailed before the mast and thus visited Europe. Later he sailed the Pacific ocean and was in San Francisco during the earthquake. Then he returned home, his father forgave him and he was placed in a military school. Again he ran away, sought the sea and when he again returned home his father refused to have him in the house. With $35 in his pockets he went to Chicago and then when his money was gone he started by the freight car route for New York.

"Reaching Sayre on Aug. 17 he and three other train riders were arrested and sentenced to either pay a fine of $10 or serve 10 days in the county jail. He then announced that his father was a court stenographer drawing a large salary and asked that he be notified of his son's arrest. He was kept in the lock-up from Aug. 17 until Friday evening but as his father did not reply to the request for assistance, the young man had to serve a jail sentence. "Say, will they shave my head and put me in striped clothes?" asked the run-away and when the officers shook their heads he was willing to go to the county jail."

VALUABLE TOM CAT.

Dr. D. L. Pratt Has Feline With True Ike Walton Instincts.

Dr. D. Leonard Pratt is a great lover of "the lesser children." He is especially fond of horses, dogs, and cats, and keeps the best that can be procured. His latest favorite is a large tiger Tom cat, called "Mike." Early in June "Mike" came home soaking wet, on several occasions, and being of an extremely social temperament, the doctor supposed that the cat had been calling on some of the neighboring tabbies and had received a ducking from some unappreciative housewife.

This opinion was speedily corrected when on June 15, "Mike' 'deposited on the doctor's back porch a fine large, black bass, which was still alive. The doctor states that he was not at all surprised at the cat's skill in catching fish, but he thinks it quite remarkable that "Mike" knew when the season opened and displayed his first fish on the 15th day of June. By actual count "Mike" has thus far brought home 15 black bass, two perch and a small pickerel.

Dr. Pratt is very fond of fish and this Summer has been too busy to catch for himself, so he trades a saucer of milk and a hunk of kidney once or twice a week with "Mike" for a fish.

Nearly a Fatality.

A Towanda gentleman had a close call from a horrible death Saturday afternoon. He attempted to board the special funeral train just as it was leaving the upper end of the railroad yards, fell and was held to the step by his clothing, being dragged considerable distance before the train was stopped. Some boys along the track saw the unfortunate man's predicament and shouted to the engineer who brought the train to a sudden halt.

For All Fine Laundry Work

Next washing day take the daintiest and most delicate shirtwaists of linen or lace work you have—the ones that you are most particular about—and starch them with

KINGSFORD'S OSWEGO SILVER GLOSS STARCH

Then compare the result with any starching you ever did with ordinary starch. You will see at once that the fabric starched with Kingsford's is whiter and more pliable, a delight at once to the sight and touch. Kingsford's Oswego Silver Gloss Starch is unapproached for the lightest or heaviest work. It keeps linens from turning yellow—lace work from breaking. You must try it.

BEST FOR ALL KINDS OF STARCHING.

For general use boil as directed. For light starching, unequaled as a cold water starch, requiring no boiling.

THE BENEDICT REUNION.

Members of a Numerous Clan Met in Elmira on Thursday.

The sixth annual reunion of the Benedict family was held at Grove park, Elmira, on Thursday. Over 100 were in attendance. The Benedict family is widespread throughout the country and five reunions are held each year in different parts of the United States, bringing together over a thousand members of the family, who have a common ancestry in Thomas Benedict, who left Nottingham, England, in 1836, for this country. The historian of the family has certificates of service of 77 members who served in the Revolutionary war. The family also furnished an even 400 men to the service in the Civil war, who fought, with one exception on the Northern side. Efforts are being made in the annual gatherings towards the revision of the geneology published in 1870, by Henry Marvin Benedict, late of Albany. The reunion at Grove park this year was more than usually delightful.

Th eofficers for the ensuing year elected Thursday are: W. H. Benedict of Towanda, president; Bingham Benedict of Canton, first vice-president; the Rev. W. F. Benedict of North Brookfield, N. Y., second vice-president; Eugene Albee of Addison, third vice-president; F. Eugene Benedict of Ithaca, general secretary; Samuel S. Benedict, Canton, assistant secretary; Isaac Hoyt Benedict, historian; Judge Willis J. Benedict of Buffalo, assistant historian.

VETERANS' REUNION.

Encampment at Wyalusing Most Successful in Years.

The Bradford County Soldiers' and Sailors' encampment was held in Wyalusing Aug. 21 and 22, and there was an attendance of about 150 comrades and a large crowd of citizens. The exercises commenced at 2 o'clock Wednesday, when Rev. E. E. Britton gave the welcome in behalf of the citizens of Wyalusing, which was responded to by Commander J. T. Hested. Speeches were made by Past Department Commander J. A. Wilt and others. A campfire was held in the evening and addresses were made by J. C. Ingham and other well known speakers. The election of officers was held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and the following were elected:

Commander—D. J. Sweet, Towanda; senior vice-commander—J. H. Black, Wyalusing; junior vice-commander—John A. Allen, Rome; quartermaster—C. T. Hull, Athens; officer of the day—D. S. Boardman, Sheshequin; officer of guard—Thomas M. Stalford, Wyalusing.

Thursday afternoon speeches were made by Captain F. N. Moore and E. M. Tuton. Then the boys witnessed a most exciting game of ball between Wyalusing and Dushore teams, which resulted in a voctory for the former a score of 4 to 3.

Resolutions were adopted thanking the Wyalusing people for their assistance and especially to Lincoln Wells, who paid the whole expense of the Wyalusing band.

It was a most enthusiastic encampment and all the boys who attended were highly pleased. It was a financial success also. They will probably vote to go to Monroeton next year.

Rutty Reunion.

The seventh annual reunion of the descendants of David Rutty was held Aug. 22, in the grove on the Hiram Rutty farm, North Towanda. The day was fine and by 11 o'clock there were 69 relatives and friends gathered around, chatting over old times. At 1 o'clock the dinner call was announced, after the blessing offered by Rev. H. B. Allen, all partook of a bounteous dinner, there being everything to eat that one could wish. Dinner being over, a business meeting was called by second vice-president William F. Keys, of Williamsport. The following officers being elected for 1908: President, David Rutty, Elmira; vice-president, George Biles, Saco; second vice-president, Edward Rutty, Wilkes-Barre; secretary, Mrs. Allan Tuttle, North Towanda; treasurer, Hiram Rutty, North Towanda. Committees on arrangements: Mrs. George Martin, Mrs. Hiram Rutty, Mrs. Griswold, Mrs. George Biles, Miss Nellie Rutty, and Miss Laura Keys. After the business meeting all listened to a recitation by Mrs. H. B. Allen; a solo by Miss Charlotte Young, also several fine selections on the graphophone. Death has entered the circle of relatives this year and taken from it Mrs. Charles Rutty, Sr., better known to all as "Aunt Hmelia," also the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Harden. There has been one marriage in the past year, that of Robert Rutty and Laurine Winlack, May 1, 1907. Another member has arrived to be one of us, Josephine Locke Rutty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rutty, Wilmington, Del. After the business meeting was over we bid each other good-bye, hoping to see everyone present in August, 1908. Relatives were present from the following places: Elmira, Lockwood, Sayre, Sheshequin, Saco, Williamsport, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, and Mainsburg. Mrs. Allan Tuttle, secretary.

Brown Reunion.

The tenth annual reunion of the Brown family was held at H. D. Allen's, Harmony Hill, on Aug. 20, with not as many present as usual. As the dinner hour approached the tables were spread and a fine repast was enjoyed by 88 people. After dinner the president called the meeting to order; minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Officers were then elected as follows: President, E. E. Brown; vice-president, S. Robinson; secretary, Mrs. J. E. Hinds; treasurer, J. A. Allen. It was then decided to hold the next reunion at the home of J. E. Hinds, Wysox, the third Tuesday in August, 1908. All then returned to the parlor to listen to Miss Edna Beeman's singing which was highly appreciated, after which all witnessed the ball game between Herrick and Harmony Hill, Herrick winning the game. Mrs. J. E. Hinds, secretary.

Shores Reunion.

The second annual reunion of the descendants of Joshua Shores was held Aug. 23, at Bird Shores', on Shores Hill. The day was fine and by 11 o'clock there were between 90 and 100 descendants of Joshua Shores present. About 12 o'clock dinner was prepared and all sat down to the tables which were placed on the lawn, shaded by maple trees. Dinner being over a business meeting was called by President Oscar Shores of Black. The following officers were elected for 1908: President, Wallis Shores, Black; vice president, Bird Shores, Shores Hill; secretary, Carrie Shores, Shores Hill. Miss Geraldine Post sang a solo and George Archer gave several selections on his graphophone, Relsman Shores of LeRaysville, gave a splendid talk on the times of Joshua Shores compared with the times now, and Lemuel Post also gave a very interesting talk. Huston Shores of Shores Hill, also spoke a few very interesting words which were listened to by the young as well as the old. The next to come up was a talk on whether all the Shores should come to the next reunion or just the descendants of Joshua Shores. There was a vote taken that all the descendants of Samuel Shores should come next year. Two marriages have taken place the last year; one of Edward Shores and Miss Lottie Carman of Sayre, and the other Fred Shores and Miss Maggie Blackman of Black. This closed the business meeting. Relatives were present from Burlington, LeRaysville, Ulster, Sayre, Athens, Saco, Black, Shores Hill and Ghent.

Cooper and Woodin Reunion.

The Cooper and Woodin reunion which was held on Aug. 21, was well attended, there being 70 present. An excellent program was carried out and appreciated. The program was as follows: Piano solo by Fair Thompson; solo, Jennie Soper, accompanied on the violin by Helena Lampman and on the piano by Clara Haight; recitation by Nina Holden; solo, Ina Holcomb; recitation, Mamie Scott; trio, Fair and Bertha Thompson and Mae Cooper; recitation, Ina Holcomb; piano duet, Margie and Mattie Smith; violin solo, Helena Lampman, accompanied on piano by Clara Haight. Talk by Elmer Cooper. A letter was read from Mrs. Mary O. Baldwin of Elmira, giving a history of the Cooper forefathers. The reunion was closed with a prayer by Joseph Woodin. An excellent dinner was served by Spencer of the Mountain Lake House. It was decided to hold the next reunion the third Wednesday in August, 1908, at Mountain Lake. Dinner to be served at the hotel.

Reunion of the Smileys.

Over seventy of the Smiley family met August 24 in Allen's grove at West Franklin, for their annual picnic. A nice shower the night before had laid the dust and cooled the air, making a fine day for the meeting. The usual dinner of good things was served by the ladies and after some time was spent in visiting the president, O. L. Smiley, called them to order and the following officers were chosen for the coming year: President, J. Mert Smiley, East Canton; vice president, Mahlon D. Allen, Rummerfield; secretary, Mrs. H. A. Benedict, Powell. The place of the next meeting was left to the officers. The day was to be the third Saturday in August. The company were much surprised and pleased by the arrival of Milton Smiley Allen of Davenport, Iowa, who had taken the trip to meet with cousins on this day. The program, which promised to be fine was interupted by a severe thunder shower.

Fleming Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Fleming family, held at Alden Fleming's, Windfall, Aug. 12, was a success, 125 being present. Binghamton,, Sayre, Athens, Towanda, Canton, Troy, and Flemington, N. J., were represented, as were nearly all the near-by towns. The day was spent in visiting, singing, ball games, etc. The following officers were elected for coming year: President, F. E. Fleming; vice-president, Alden Fleming; secretary, Anna Rathbun; treasurer, Philander Fleming. After singing "God Be With You 'Till we Meet Again," the company voted to meet Aug. 12, 1908, at Charles Shoemaker's, at Granville Summit, which is also the home of the oldest of the Fleming family, Mr. Shoemaker's mother, Mrs. Asenath Shoemaker.

Rogers Reunion.

The third annual reunion of the descendants of the Rogers family was held at the home of S. H. Kuykendall in Windham, Aug. 1, about 65 relatives being present. Tables were set on the lawn and an excellent dinner was served. A picture of the group was taken by Luther Chrispel of Potterville, then the meeting was called to order by the vice presiden, Joseph Rogers, the president being absent. The following officers were elected: Frank Rogers, president; Joseph Rogers, vice president; Jessie Rogers, secretary and treasurer. The speaking of James T. Rogers of Binghamton, and Ezra Rogers of Wisconsin, was much enjoyed by all. After singing "America" they returned to their respective homes, hoping to meet again next year.

WELLES—HUTCHINS.

Home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Welles Scene of Prety Wedding.

The marriage of Amelia Page Welles to Philip Adrian Hutchins was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Welles, Wednesday morning at half past ten, Rev. Edwin A. Gernant, officiating. Only immediate relatives and a few intimate friends were in attendance. Mary S. Welles, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Richard C. Storey of Boston, was best man. The only other attendants were Ellen Welles Page and Charles Welles Little who carried flowers. A wedding breakfast was served at eleven o'clock and the bride and groom left on No. 4 for a trip of several weeks.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hutchins of West Bedford, Mass; Richard Storey of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kintner of Buffalo; Mrs. E. M. Welles of Addison; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Page of East Orange.

Underwood—Gottshall.

Saturday evening, Aug. 24, at 8 o'clock, Miss Elsie L., the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Underwood, was united in marriage to Charles H. Gottshall of Shamokin, at the home of the bride's parents, 23 Packer avenue, Rev. H. B. Allen of North Towanda, officiating. The attendants were Miss Mable Underwood, a sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Charles W. Rancher of Sayre, as best man. The bride was gowned in white silk with trimmings of all-over lace and carried bridal roses. The bridesmaid was attired in blue silk and carried a bunch of sweet peas. The house was tastefully decorated in evergreen, sweet pears and cut flowers. After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Simon Gottshall, parents of the groom, and Russell and Miss Ferne Gottshall, brother and sister of the groom, of Shamokin, Pa.; Miss Clisty Hiney, Luthers Mills, and Mrs. Ella Compton, Highland. The bride and groom received a number of useful and beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Gottshall will spend their honeymoon at Canton, from where they will go to Shamokin, the home of the groom's parents, and Washington, D. C., and will be at home after Sept. 10, to their many friends who extend congratulations, at their future home in Chester, Pa., where they expect to locate.

Mrs. J. Bidlack is ill with throat trouble.

A shiftless, improvident man is the natural outgrowth of a lazy and irresponsible boy. In this case the boy is truly father to the man.

No man or woman whose sensibilities are appealed to by the beauty and fragrance of flowers or who is fond of little children can be wholly bad.

If the tomato vines are taken up just before the first heavy frost and hung in a cool cellar, the green tomatoes will continue to ripen until early winter.

We often lose the benefit we might derive from helpful criticisms and suggestions by too hastily drawing the conclusion that they apply only to the other fellow.

For the man who hasn't the enterprise to keep his fences in good repair the keeping of sheep on even a modest scale is entirely out of the question. He has far less trouble without sheep than he would with them and his fences down.

The application of oil now and then on the hard water pump, especially if the supply for the house has to be pumped by the women, will be an aid that will be greatly appreciated.

The white fly net that was bought for the family horse last year or the year before and looks pretty dirty may be made to look almost as good as a new net by dyeing it a red, brown or black.

A good many jobs inside the house and out are much worse to look forward to than they are to pitch into and do. Dislike of a piece of work usually increases the longer it is postponed.

In Montana, where sheep raising is one of the leading industries, it is not uncommon for the owners of large ranches to clean up as high as $150,000 per year, and withal it is money that is earned with a minimum of effort.

Now and then one runs across a farmer who raises timothy and clover instead of weeds on the roadsides bordering his place. The idea is a good one. Quite a bunch of extra hay can be grown this way, while these grasses not only look better while growing, but do not serve to befoul the adjoining fields.

A dollar given now and then to the small boy by his father, while excellent in its place, should not be the only evidence of interest which the father shows in his son. The boy is a good deal more in need of a uniform interest and sympathy than he is of money, and he will be handicapped and defrauded if he is not given them along with the coin.

In no way is the life of the average home more adequately portrayed than in the conduct of the children who go from it into the public school. While there are now and then exceptions to the rule, it is quite safe to assume that if a boy or girl has his or her own way and makes trouble at home he is likely to be trying the same tactics at school, and the contrary is equally true.

There is striking similarity to be observed between the tabby cat which is a good mouser and the dairy cow that has a reputation of filling the pail. Both are usually thin and rawboned specimens, skinny legged and unattractive. The dairy cow may be minus a horn and the tabby cat shy an ear which may have been frozen off some night in midwinter when she was out on a nightly prowl.

As marking quite accurately the advance which has been made in the development of the electrical sciences it is interesting to note that the world's copper output in 1881 was but 63,000 tons and worth at 18 cents per pound $65,000,000, while at present the annual production is 800,000 tons, worth, at a little over 20 cents per pound, about $365,000,000. This stands as one of the industrial marvels of the last quarter century.

It may be a truism to say that if the boys and girls are to be kept on the farm it must be made so far as possible a greater center of interest and attraction than any other place with which they may be acquainted. If home for them is merely a roosting place where they eat and sleep and where they get naught but kicks and cuffs from morning until night, it is not a cause of much surprise that they light out for more congenial surroundings the first chance they get.

The irritating, wearing things of everyday life are more often the outgrowth of ill nature and shortsightedness of folks than of disadvantages or handicaps incident to the environment in which they happen to be placed. In other words, life, whether of those poor or rich, is a good deal what folks make it. Many the palace which has its grinning skeleton in the closet and many the peasant's home where joy and contentment abound. We go this way but once. It is worth while to make life as wholesome and happy as may be.

SOME OF THE POSSIBILITIES.

On and after Sept. 1 as a result of regulations which have recently been issued by the government American farmers will have the same right as German farmers to operate manufactories tax free for the production of alcohol for light, heat and power purposes. In this connection the views of an authority on the subject of the use of alcohol are of interest. He contends that industrial alcohol at 40 cents per gallon would compete with kerosene at 18 cents, would give an agreeable light for a longer time, would be perfectly clean and have no offensive odor, while the use of it would be less likely to produce accidents. If, as has been claimed as the result of processes of distillation recently discovered, denatured alcohol can be manufactured at a cost of 10 cents per gallon he claims it would drive petroleum from the market. In view of the gradually increasing price of kerosene and the fact that tons of stuff go to waste on the average farm which might be converted into alcohol sufficient to furnish all the light, heat and power needed on the place it is to be hoped that the situation which this writer predicts may be speedily realized.

There is nothing that work or driving horses enjoy more nor which is more beneficial for them than to be turned out to pasture for the night or at intervals during warm weather so that they can get a bite of fresh grass and roll to their hearts' content. Wherever it is possible it is well to humor them in this matter.

Where it is feasible it is an excellent idea to turn a bunch of hogs into the orchard to eat up the early windfall apples, a large per cent of which are likely to be wormy. This not only furnishes the hogs a relish, but results in the destruction of a good many apple worms which would otherwise pupate and lay eggs for the production of a later crop of worms.

From no variety of garden flowers which the writer raises does he derive the satisfaction which he gets from the tea roses. He finds the Maman Cochet, Mme. Chatenay, President Carnot, Kaiserin Victoria, Richmond and American Beauty very satisfactory, their delicate beauty and fragrance furnishing a most generous return for the pains required to care for them.

The possession of good health, perseverance and a spirit of industry will in the great majority of cases bring success to a young man or woman in any enterprise in which they may see fit to embark. The most deplorable cases of failure that one runs across are not those which are the result of ill health, but where the physical machinery is present and the motor power of ambition is lacking.

One should give a very wide berth to those fly by night mutual insurance companies which cannot stand a very close examination at the hands of a reliable commercial agency. As a rule, the only feature that a fellow finds mutual in a concern of this description is the paying of premiums up to the time it goes to smash and paying the debts contracted by a bunch of extravagant officeholders.

The relatively greater nutritive value of grass which grows in late summer and is often dry and wiry is due to the fact that it does not contain so much water, hence contains a larger per cent of nutritive elements. This explains why the buffalo grass to be found out on the semiarid western plains is one of the most nourishing grasses known, from the standpoint of flesh production being nearly equal to the hay and grain ration usually fed.

The rosebushes may be rid of the aphis and red spider by spraying them frequently with a solution made by steeping tobacco stems or leaves in warm water and making up at the ration of about a pound of tobacco to a tobacco pail full of water. If the rose mildew appears it may be checked by sprinkling the bushes with flower of sulphur or by spraying them with a solution made by dissolving one-half ounce of potassium sulphide in a gallon of water.

A physiological soil fact that it is well for both the agriculturist and florist to keep in mind is that growing plant life requires for its best development not only moisture, but air circulation. This may be secured through frequent stirring of the soil, which provides a soil mulch at the surface and keeps it from baking, a fact that should especially be kept in mind during the hot, dry days of midsummer when the supply of moisture from rain and dew is deficient.

We once knew a fellow who was afflicted with a very common ailment which manifested itself in his case along the line of poultry raising. The thing referred to was a sort of discontent with his own things which made him think that his neighbors' Leghorns were just a little finer than his own Plymouths. Before long he went into Leghorns, but when he got them they didn't look as good to him as another neighbor's Light Brahmas, and so it went. The truth suggested applies not only to hens, but hats and duds and other things.

That is a mistaken idea of kindness to the dead which imposes a burden of debt upon the living in the matter of funeral expenses which are incurred when loved ones are taken from the home. However, the truth suggested would hardly seem to justify the ingratitude shown a dear old mother (we once knew) who reared a large family of sons and daughters, devoting the best years of her life in service to them, who when she came to die bought a shoddy, moth eaten, catalogue house coffin in which to carry her tired body to its last resting place. The extremes suggested should be avoided.

THE WEED NUISANCE.

In view of the rapid rate at which noxious weeds are spreading over sections of the middle and western states, more care than is customarily exercised should be used in the matter of utilizing the roadside grasses, the working of which through the mangers and out on the manure pile may result in scattering harmful weeds and grasses over the whole farm. Along this same line an equal care should be exercised that no hay is used on the place from farms which are known to be infested with noxious weeds, particularly the Canada thistle and pestilential quack grass. Those who have had first hand experience with them know it is a far simpler matter to let such weeds get a foothold on the place than it is to eradicate them after they are established.

A THING TO REMEMBER.

It is well for the owners of farms in the vicinity of the smaller country towns to remember that there are chiefly two factors which tend to affect the value of farm real estate. One is the intrinsic value of the land represented by its soil fertility, while the other is the proximity of the land to a good, live town. This condition depends upon the amount of business which is done therein, which in turn depends upon the extent to which the farmers in the vicinity trade at home. If the bulk or even a considerable per cent of their business is transacted with the far away catalogue house it goes without saying that this helps to kill the town, thereby tending to decrease the value of every acre of land in the territory tributary to it.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles—A Towanda Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Towanda people testify to permanent cures.

J. A. Campbell, clerk in M. J. Long's grocery store and living at 104 Pine street, Towanda, Pa., says: "It is about a year since I had my first experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. At that time I was having considerable annoyance from pains across the small of my back. I have no doubt but the constant standing on my feet aggravated it if it did not cause the trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills which I bought at Dr. H. C. Porter & Son's drug store quickly stopped the attack. I was quite free from it until a few weeks ago when there were symptoms of a recurrence. I again resorted to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and as in the former case they brought about the desired results. This proved to my satisfaction that Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Pattern For Nine Gored Skirt Designed by May Manton—No. 5737.

The skirt that is made with a plait at each gore is a well deserved favorite. Just now it is being very much worn both for walking and for round length and, as it can be trimmed in various ways, is an exceedingly satisfactory model. This one is made of a pretty novelty material trimmed with plain colored braid, but bandings of every possible sort are in vogue. The same fabric and one fabric on another are much used and can be made to produce novel effects. Applied bands simulating tucks are very fashionable, bandings put on in some geometrical form are well liked, straight rows are in every way correct, or the skirt can be finished with a stitched hem.

The skirt is made in nine gores and is so shaped as to flare abundantly at the lower portion. If walking length is desired it can be cut off on indicated lines. There is a plait at each seam which effectually conceals the joinings, and the fullness at the back is laid in inverted plaits.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 11 yards 27, 6¾ yards 44 or 52 inches wide if material has figure or nap; 7 yards 27, 5¾ yards 44 or 4½ yards 52 inches wide if it has not, with 6 yards of braid.

Sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inch waist.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING.

BRIDEGROOM STOLEN

Exciting Time at Wedding of Former Towanda Young Lady

POLICEMEN RESCUE HUSBAND.

Seymour Mork of New York City and Miss Gertrude Loewus Wed Midst Scenes That Cause Tears and Laughter— Victim of Friends.

The New York American of Friday last gives the following account of the marriage of Miss Gertrude Loewus, daughter of Nathan Loewus, who for many years conducted a big department store in Towanda in the building now occupied by his brother, Barney Loewus:

"Snatched from his bride of half an hour, and kidnaped on his wedding day, only to be rescued a few minutes later by a squad of police reserves, was the experience of Seymour Mork, a lawyer, of No. 38 Park Place, New York city, Thursday.

"Mork was married to Miss Gertrude Loewus in her home at No. 2086 Washington avenue by Rabbi Levy, of the Tremont Temple Society, at noon. Half an hour later, while walking a few blocks from the bride's home, he was surrounded by a crowd and thrown into a cab.

"The driver, who evidently was inexperienced, started to drive away, but a mob which had collected, and was ready to help the weeping bride, stood in the way hooting.

"The noise attracted the attention of the lieutenant in the Tremont avenue police station, only a few doors away. He took a look at the disturbance, which had almost reached the proportions of a riot, and called out the reserves.

"They were on the scene in a moment. Mork was liberated and proceeded amid cheers to the elevated railroad station, half a block away, with his smiling bride on his arm.

"Mork is the Exalted Ruler of the Bronx lodge of Elks. He also was president until his wedding day of the Bachelors' club, which is made up of members of the lodge.

"When the members of the club received invitations to the wedding they were indignant at Mork's open viloation of the rules of the club, which demand celibacy. They vowed vengeance.

"Accordingly, arrangements were made to give him as pleasant a wedding day as possible. To begin with, all of the window blinds of the bride's house were taken down, and all of the wine which was on hand for the wedding feast was carefully removed. Among the numerous presents which Mork received were several C. O. D. packages, which proved to be cobble stones.

"Mork knew of the intention of the Bachelor club to kidnap him, and he left his bride's home by a back door. He had covered three and one-half of the four blocks to the Tremont avenue elevated station when a closed cab drove madly up to the curb, manned by members of the club.

"Mork was wise enough not to tell the members of the club where he intends to spend his honeymoon."

The American in addition to the foregoing account, contained an excellent picture of Mr. Mork and his bride. Mrs. Mork is well known in Towanda, where she lived until going to New York a few years ago.

Regemental Reunion at Monroeton.

The people of Monroeton are making extensive preparations for the entertainment of the veterans of the 141st regiment who will hold their reunion at that place on Wednesday of this week. Among the many attractions will be a baseball game, Manager Charles Meredith of the Monroeton team having charge of that feature. He is trying to arrange a game with Ulster for Wednesday and if unsuccessful will secure some other fast team.

Will Visit Europe.

Auditor General Robert K. Young of Wellsboro, accompanied by his wife and his father, Colonel Hugh Young, and wife, sailed Saturday for the North coast of Ireland, the birthplace of the elder Young, to remain until the first of October. Auditor General Young is fagged out from close attention to business. He has not been well since the close of the campaign last year.

Burglars Stole Flour.

The Keystone roller mill, B. Schrader, proprietor, at Wellsboro, was burglarized and over 400 pounds of buckwheat flour, corn meal and feed was stolen. On Wednesday night thieves removed a pane of glass from the office door and then slipped the bolt. They then filled their wagon and drove off down the Tioga road.

Singular Occurrence.

Mrs. Frank Stacey of Springfield, and Mrs. William Mason of Sayre, on Monday, both gave birth to daughters, during the same hour, and only a few minutes apart. Mrs. Stacey and Mrs. Mason are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Patterson, of Athens, formerly of Springfield.

Will Institute I. O. O. F. Lodge.

The I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge will institute a subordinate lodge in the grange hall at Wysox, next Monday, Sept. 2, at 2 p. m. James S. Montgomery of Philadelphia, grand warden, will institute the new lodge, assisted by past grands of the Towanda lodge.

SEPTEMBER MAGAZINES.

What Some of the Big Publishers are Offering in Good Literature.

"Current literature," remarked Upton Sinclair, as he looked over the September issue, "is the most indispensable magazine in the United States." The issue in question, like its predecessors, brings the reader into touch with the most vital world-currents. There is nothing scrappy about it and nothing dull. Every article is well digested and brilliantly illuminates the question dealt with. Among the most notable features of the September number are a study of the Moulders of our ideals—the modern college presidents, with new and striking portraits.

Lippincott's Magazine.

The publishers of Lippincott's Magazine report a most gratifying increase in its circulation during the past Summer—though the Summer months are a season when the circulation of periodicals usually shows a falling off. Lippincott's good showing is probably due to the exceptional quality of the fiction which has appeared in it of late. The September number shows no let-up in the efforts its publishers are making to please the public. It opens with a novelette which is sure to attract attention both for its own intrinsic merit and on account of the author, Carolyn Wells. The novelette is entitled "A Chain of Evidence," and the plot is based on a murder mystery.

The Circle.

In The Circle for September, Ernest K. Coulter writes of "The Big Brothers and the Children's Court" with such enthusiasm for the splendid results which those "Big Brothers" are achieving in the lives of the children of the tenements that the article is an inspiration which must leave its mark in the lives of the reader. A very important article in the September number of The Circle is a description of "The First Self-Governed Jewish Community Since the Fall of Jerusalem," from the pen of David Blaustein, D.D.

The Century.

The feature of most popular interest in the September Century promises to be John Gilmer Speed's discussion of "Racing in Its Relation to Horse-breeding." Mr. Speed holds that racing is not entirely a business, it is not merely a gambling game, it is not purely a sport, nor is it conducted simply to improve the breed of horses; but it partakes of all these at once, and the only evil those in control do not seem able to eliminate is gambling.

THREE WEDDINGS.

Young People With Relatives in This County, United in Marriage.

Newspapers published in Oregon, give the following accounts of the wedding of three young couple, who have relatives in Towanda and Bradford county:

Double Wedding.

"A double wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mitchell, on Cottage street, Salem, Tuesday, July 16, when their daughters, Olive E. and Jessie Z., were married, the former to Spencer S. Hunt, and the latter to Charles R. Brague, both of Salem, Rev. P. S. Knight officiating. The young couple left on the evening train for Albany, and will spend their honeymoon at Newport. There was a jolly crowd at the train to give them the proper send off and if one-half the expressions of good will are ever fulfilled their lives will surely fall in easy places."—Daily Capitol Journal, Salem, Ore.

Richards—Brague.

"Canthorn was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 3:30 o'clock, July 30, when in the presence of a number of invited friends and relatives, Miss Marjorie Ellen Richards became the bride of Roy Edwin Brague, Rev. A. W. Monosmith officiating. The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Whitehead of this city, being a young lady of charming personality, and is very prominent among Corvallis young people, while the groom is a young man of splendid character and a popular student of O. A. C. A host of friends join in wishing them a happy voyage on the sea of life."—Corvallis, Oregon Gazette.

The Hornbrook Ladies' Aid held an ice cream festival at the home of J. D. Morris in that village last evening.

DR. KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

Breaks no Hearts, Excuses no Crimes.

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it cannot help, it does not harm. It is composed of vegetable ingredients and does not heat or inflame the blood but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements which afflict women, the action of Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this, in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business certificates never possess. It makes no drunkards—excuses no crimes—breaks no hearts. We challenge a trial and are confident of the result. ONE DOLLAR a Bottle. All druggists. Bear in mind the name and address: Dr. David KENNEDY, Rondout, New York. Write for free sample bottle and medical booklet full of valuable medical advice. Mention this paper.

BEE WAS A SUCCESS

Not a Thousand Present But Enough to Do the Work.

AN OLD FASHIONED DINNER.

Fair Grounds of the Bradford County Agricultural Society Put in Good Condition—Royal Good Time Had By the Volunteer Workmen.

The old fashioned bee held by the Bradford County Agricultural society Thursday for the purpose of ridding up and improving the East Towanda fair grounds, was a success in every way. There were not a thousand people present as was hoped and expected, but there were enough to do the work and make the affair a success. The men folks, and there were quite a number of them, all able bodied, ambitious and eager to show the agricultural society that they were ready to help in a good cause, reached the scene of action at a seasonable time and without hesitating waded right into the work. And how they did work. Volunteers in any affair never took more interest and labored more faithfully and willingly than those who attended the bee.

All the loose stones were raked up and hauled away, the fence around the ground was repaired, unsightly piles of dirt were removed and everything that had a tendency to mar the looks of the grounds was made to disappear. Ditches were made and the pipe which carries water to every section of the ground was laid, and covered sufficiently to allow driving over with a wagon. The old stone pile fort which has stood like a monument in the middle of the race track enclosure for several years, obstructing the view of the farther side of the race course was torn down and hauled away, and the grass and weeds cut. The grandstand was swept and cleaned by the ladies, and when a halt was called at the end of the working period last evening, the ground presented a very much improved appearance, having passed through a transformation as it were.

The Dinner.

The dinner served by the ladies was a feature of the bee. It was one of those real bountiful, sumptous affairs, with old fashioned things such as chicken pie, roast beef, roast veal, roast pork, rice pudding, bread and butter, pickles, potato salad, pies, cakes, jellies and everything that the inner man could crave. The dinner hour was one of the very best parts of the bee, as it was a social event of no mean proportions, the ladies forming new acquaintances and coming to know old ones better. The men folks gathered around the festive board and partook of the good things to their capacity, while the ladies busied themselves catering to their wants and dishing up the good things. Around the dinner table was gathered as hungry a lot of men as ever assembled, and their hunger was gained in an excellent cause, and they relished the good things all the more.

The bee was a success in every way and the Agricultural society is highly pleased and deeply grateful to those who helped in the work and lent their assistance to the cause. But the work of improving the fair grounds is not yet finished. Before the fair commences, all the trees within the race track enclosure are to be removed, so that from the grand stand every inch of the track will be visible. The removing of these trees will also be of great benefit to the judges who officiate at the horse races. Heretofore the farther side of the track has been hidden from view with the result that there have been many complaints of unfair driving on the part of some racing men, who took advantage of their obscurity from the judges' stand and played their tricks. Many horsemen owning fast trotters have refused to bring their racers to Towanda on this account, but this year there will be no occasion for complaint from this source, as the judges will be able to see the horses from start to stop.

When the great fair of 1907 opens, it will be under most favorable conditions for a successful four days exhibition.

Prolific Hens.

From his flock of 30 hens, Fred Powers of Mansfield, received 690 eggs during the month of May, an average of 23 eggs for each hen. The largest product from one hen during one month was 26, and the smallest 20. Mr. Powers used trap nests. During June he got 2,430 eggs from 115 hens, an average of 21 eggs per hen. One of his hens laid 75 eggs in three consecutive months.

JUDGE MITCHELL PASSES AWAY.

Tioga County Jurist Succumbs After Long Illness.

After an illness dating since January, 1900, Judge John I. Mitchell died at his home in Wellsboro, on Tuesday, aged 69 years. His wife and seven children survive, five sons and two daughters. Of the latter Clara is the wife of Deputy Attorney General T. W. P. Litz of Harrisburg, and Louise is the wife of Samuel D. Clyde of Chester.

Judge Mitchell retired from the superior court in 1902, on half pay, after a commission had reported to Governor Stone that he was unable to perform his duties on the bench and physicians had declared that the paralysis from which he suffered was incurable.

Judge Mitchell had had an active career and by his own exertions rose from a farmer's son to a seat in the United States senate. He enlisted as a private in the Civil war and was captain of Company A, 136th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, when he retired. He studied law after the close of the war and was district attorney of Tioga county. He was afterward elected to the legislature, where for several terms he was the House leader. Later he was elected to congress, and in 1881 was chosen United States senator as a compromise candidate after a long factional battle. Soon after the expiration of his senatorial term he was elected to the common pleas bench in Tioga county, and in 1899 was elevated to the superior court. In the latter position, unfortunately, he was able to render almost no service, having been incapacitated by illness almost from the time he was sworn in.

Judge Mitchell was always a thorough Republican, but independent in thought and action.

YOUNG PRIEST BURIED.

Funeral of Rev. B. E. O'Byrne Was Held at Carbondale.

The funeral of the Rev. Bernard E. O'Byrne took place Friday morning, a solemn requiem high mass being celebrated in St. Rose church, Carbondale, by Rev. Father Dixon of Overton, with Rev. M. F. O'Rourke of Athens, deacon; Rev. Dr. Malone of Scranton, sub-deacon; Rev. J. J. O'Donnell of Carbondale, master of ceremonies; chanters, Rev. J. J. McCabe of Wilkes-Barre, and Rev. James Moffett. At the conclusion of the mass Very Rev. Coffey of Carbondale, preached the funeral sermon, in which he dwelt upon the life of the deceased, whom he had known as a little boy.

A large delegation from Dushore, Father O'Bryne's parish, attended the funeral, which was one of the largest ever seen in Carbondale. Services at the grave were conducted by Father Dixon, assisted by the priests in attendance.

The honorary pallbearers were Rev. J. J. Curran, Rev. J. J. Griffin, Rev. John Healy, Rev. Loftus, Rev. Matthew McBland, Rev. D. J. McCarthy. The priests attending from this section were Rev. J. J. Griffin, Rev. John Lynott, Rev. J. J. Curran of Wilkes-Barre, and Rev. Matthew Boyland of Kingston.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL.

Aged Man Died As Result of Fall in Alighting From Train.

Ira Sturdevant, the aged man who fell while alighting from Lehigh train No. 146 at Black Walnut last Monday evening died at Laceyville Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. He was 82 years of age, and it was at first thought that he was not seriously injured, as he only fell to his knees and then got up again. It developed later however, that his injuries were severe and culminated in his death Wednesday.

He evidently did not realize at the time that his station had not been reached and so did not start to get off as soon as the train stopped, and the brakeman thinking that all were off gave the signal to go ahead. The conductor discovered Mr. Sturdevant just as he was about to alight and pulled the cord to stop, but not before the old man had fallen.

Progressive Ulsterite.

The Ulster correspondent of the Athens Gazette says: "O. F. Ayer is installing steam heat and piping his residence for water. The water is pumped at the mill and forced through pipes underground and in the house to a large tank in the atic which serves as a reservoir. The system is quite complete and Mr. Ayer expects soon to enjoy the comforts of ail modern city improvements. There is one thing yet lacking, the question of electric lights, but it is probable that this will not be wanting long for he is a progressive sort of a fellow and may install a dynamo for illuminating purposes."

Schools Get State Funds.

Warrants are being issued as fast as the state treasurer transfers the funds for the schools of the state, and as the time for the opening of schools approaches the districts are pushing in their reports to the state department of public instruction at Harrisburg. More than $150,000 was sent out Friday, and the estimated amount paid to date is $3,353,609. The largest warrant drawn was $31,000 for Wilkes-Barre. There are 2,575 districts in the state to be supplied with funds.

Stealing Newspapers.

The court at Lancaster has decided that when a carrier leaves a newspaper at the door of a subscriber, the paper at once becomes the property of the subscriber. If any unauthorized person takes away the paper, thus depriving the owner of the same, the act is a theft and the offense is larceny.

THE DROUGHT BROKEN

Farmers Admit That Showers Have Benefitted Corn Crop.

CAN'T HELP THE POTATOES.

It is Claimed if Water Had Reached Roots, New Growths Would Have Started Which Would Be About as Bad as No Rain at All.

The rain that fell Friday night and Saturday afternoon, has broken the drought to a great extent, but some farmers state that it is far from being enough. The corn has been saved. It was drying up, and, if rain had not fallen, would have been worthless. It is claimed by a number of farmers that the rain came too late to save the potato crop, and that even if it had reached the roots of the potatoes it would have caused a second growth that would have been about as bad as no rain at all. It is also stated that the tops of the potatoes are nearly all dead and therefore the rain could not help them.

May Save the Pasture.

It is thought that the pastures will be helped considerable and thus aid the cows in keeping up their supply of milk, and, perhaps, help to keep the price of butter down. A great many of the farmers' springs which were nearly dry have been given a new supply of water.

A huckleberry expert claims that the supply of berries would have been exhausted the coming week had it not been for this rain, as the berries were drying up. He now thinks the crop will last at least two weeks yet.

Worth Thousands of Dollars.

The recent rains were worth thousands of dollars to the farmers of Bradford county. It was a soaking rain, the first in weeks, and the only fear is that it has come too late, to be of general benefit, and especially to buckwheat, one of the county's big crops. Its benefit to the corn and the grass, cannot, howver, be calculated. The rain will also go a long way toward relieving the serious water famine which has affected several towns in the county.

FIRE AT TRINKET.

House and Barned Burned Monday Night—Mysterious Origin.

Mrs. Adam Keir awakened the district involving the village of Trinket and vicinity, Monday night by the alarm of fire which she discovered in the buildings on the farm of Harry Thompson in Trinket. The blaze was discovered at about 12:30 o'clock and it then had gained such headway that the neighbors were unable to do anything but stand by and see the dwelling house and barn entirely consumed.

The house was unoccupied, Mr. Thompson having vacated it during the early Spring, and the barn was empty, with the possible exception that it contained a few farming implements. The origin of the fire is not known. No one appears to have been around the buildings that evening, however, during the day, men were engaged mowing the hay surrounding the barn. The fire is rather mysterious from the fact that the buildings were some distance apart. The house was an old one, but the barn was comraratively new. Mr. Thompsoon at present lives with his parents at Shesbequin township about one mile from his former home. The buildings were insured with $500 on on the barn and $100 on the house.

Another View of Rumor.

The Williamsport News says: "The rumor to the effect that the proposed Pittsburg, Binghamton and Eastern railroad will pass through Newberry is undoubtedly without foundation. The talk of the new line running from Canton down the Lycoming creek valley to Newberry is impracticable because of the fact that there is not sufficient room for another line to operate in that valley. The Susquehanna and New York railroad company has a right of way already laid out and purchased in case the necessity might ever present itself for the construction of a line through that district. With two lines extending down the narrow valley there hardly remains room for a third line to be constructed."

Auto Mystery Recalled.

The description of an expert automobilist, who died very suddenly at Atlanta, Ga., under the name of J. C. McArthur, has been received by the police in Scranton and it allies very closely with that of Frank Williams of Scranton, whose automobile was found at the foot of South street, in the river, some months ago. The reason that the police of Atlanta communicated with Scranton was the fact that in the dead man's pockets had been found several letters couched in loving terms and signed by a Scranton woman.

Deshon Leaves Owego.

John Deshon, better known as "Nick" Deshon, who was the star pitcher among the colleges and who twirled such effective ball for the Owegos, left Friday night for his home in Nicaraugua, where he will spend four months. He will take charge of his father's estate, and expects to return to Cornell in December. He will pursue another year's study in the Agricultural college.—Owego Gazette.

MARL IN SAYRE.

Western Syndicate Will Erect Plant and Develop Bed in Milltown.

A syndicate composed of Western financiers, has leased a large tract of land in the Milltown district of Sayre, and will begin soon erecting a plant and making other preparations for digging marl or peet, and manufacturing it for the market.

A representative of the syndicate ascertained that there is a large deposit of marl in Sayre, and then the syndicate commenced leasing land. They have signed leases with A. W. Wilkinson, F. H. Kinney and the Woodworth estate and have secured the right to dig marl on a plot of land about a mile in length and half a mile in width. According to the terms of the lease the work must be commenced inside of six months. The members of the syndicate are reticent regarding their plans but they have announced that they will erect a large plant for manufacturing the marl into concrete and fertilizer.—Sayre Times-Record.

Buy Hair at Auction?

At any rate, you seem to be getting rid of it on auction-sale principles: "going, going, g-o-n-e!" Stop the auction with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It certainly checks falling hair; no mistake about this. It acts as a regular medicine; makes the scalp healthy. Then you must have healthy hair, for it's nature's way.
